Some general debatable topics

1.Chinese Goods Vs Indian Goods, which is better

Intro:- We import & use Chinese goods & we manufacture, consume & export Indian goods. But the fact is India import from the China is worth $72000 million . & Here,our import rate is higher than export.

Indian Goods:-

- If goods r produced in India than it will increase job creation & will also help government objective of Make in India". The cultural values of the country will remain b'coz we will produce what is suitable for India.
- It happens that chinese manufacturer route their product through the market of other countries with whom India has free trade agreement. So, they not paying taxes for that & due to which we r at loss.
- Building goods in India will help in some innovation & will up-skilled Indians so, that we become comparable to chinese skilled citizen & will give birth to the possibility that other countries wish to import goods to their country from our country.
- We should stop promoting our competitors product & try to emphasize more on our own good which helps in circulating Indian currency within our people & will make our people richer which would give India a better GDP.

- Chinese Product r not very good or long lasting. If I talk about chinese toys or even diwali lights they in cheap but not repairable if once got damage.
- Production cost of goods produced in India r more than Chinese.And The quality of Chinese goods is as per the customer needs & in their spending limit of purchasing .If we'r spending less money than the quality will also be equivalent to it.
- Chinese goods not as durable as Indian goods. eg...Chinese paper cup r much cheaper r disposable after 1 time use but Indian Ceramic cup r more money intensive having high production cost.

CHINESE GOODS: -

- Chinese goods are very cheap & reasonably priced at 10%. to 70% lower than Indian goods, so it makes us safe a lot more money.
- They offer more large variety & Innovative goods than India. & more on it their people r far ahead of us in term, of skill, creativity.
- Their technology is far better & superior to Indian goods. They r technically very much advance than us. & that's why, China is a developed country & India is still developing.

CONCLUSION:

Considering the overall benefits that India gets from buying Indian goods. It's important for us to buy Indian products to promote government Vocal for local initiative.Now since ,

Chinese products r good to use & economical.and It is difficult to impose a restriction over chinese goods,but the gov. should think of ways & means to make Indian goods more competitive & produce them goods in India .And also,

more than 60%, are experienced population their.Indian labourers r not that adept and skilled and needs a lot more trainings and experimental knowledge to make them that competitive to chinese workers

2.Democracy in India...

INTRO - India is one of the largest democratic countries of the world. Here democracy is rule of the people, by the people, for the people. We feel proud to be in a democratic nation. Since, power in democracy stays with the people.

PROS:-

- In a country like China there is no democracy. The ruling party is not chosen by the public, neither are their opinions taken. So, we can also compare it with a monarch system where the king rules the country & makes decisions. In India, people are sovereign, there is no monarch system.
- Most stable model for a diverse country like India. Here different religions, different cultures, people live in harmony. If India is not democratic, then the ruling party will be chosen from among multiple religions. Their rules & decisions may be biased to their own community & controversial for other religions. Hence, democracy is necessary in a country like India.

CONS: -

- In democracy, decision-making strategy is very slow. If one political party decides, then the other party in the parliament will oppose it.
- Govt. is misusing democracy because they listen to people, fulfill their desires only when election days are near to increase their vote bank. & after election they ignore the public.
- Consensus building is difficult in democracy as it is a very arduous task to come to a common solution when there are differing opinions.

CONCLUSION:

No doubt we face challenges but still it is the best possible political model & we must make it successful by eradicating the problems being faced.

3.Should National Anthem be played in Cinema hall?

INTRO:- I feel that it is a very burning topic on which supreme court has already given judgement. In 2016, S.C said that it is compulsory for all cinema halls to play anthem 1st. It is our identity we should feel proud in standing but you cannot enforce your rule on others to make them stand against their will.

YES:-

- It is shameful for all those who is violating this S.C. law, as we can watch movie for 2-3 hours but can't stand for 52 seconds.
- It gives a feeling of unity when people of dif caste, creed & religion sing together national anthem. So, we should not be against them.
- To respect our culture, our country, standing up to our country is our 1st fundamental duty to our nation. So, if it is a compulsion to stand for few sec. than we should take it as an opportunity to fulfill our duties.

No :-

- Rules cannot be enforced on someone to make them stand deliberately without their will.
- Movies r full of comedy ,romance, vulgarity, so, their is no mean to play this anthem. Hence, such movies degrades national anthem.
- Cinema hall is not the right place to play national anthem as its real value is feel during occasions or when playing cricket against other nation where we need to represent India as a whole.

CONCLUSION-

It is our fundamental duty, to respect our national anthem rather than debating that whether we should stand or not. We should tell people to stay away from practicing any bad habit, which national anthem of India teaches us

4.Is Beef Ban logical ?

INTRO - Beef is a very nutritious product and consuming it would help in revitalizing and enriching our body with all essential minerals and vitamins but on the other hand slaughtering animals is a form of cruelty against them. So, it must be taken into account whether or not to eat beef by exploiting and killing innocent animals.

FOR -

- People r going vegan, Vegan is avoiding all animal products including dairy, egg etc. This is followed to exclude all forms of animal cruelty.
- There r many such contagious diseases that spreads from person to person and animals r the main source these diseases originated from. Spread of disease like corona virus is a biggest example of that. Hence must be banned.
- The by-product that animals give r much healthy for the young ones & older peoples who don't have any teeth, Infact, the cow urine is very effective in various ailment. If we kill them than procurement of essential minerals and components that comes from animal will become a near miss for us .

AGAINST -

- Beef should not be banned. People should be given the right to eat what they want, gov has no right to impose a food culture. It is the people who decide what they want to eat. There should not be any restriction on what to eat.
- Beef selling is also a business for many. By banning beef, large no. of people will go unemployed. They r gonna loose their job. The moment their r job loss there will be multiple repercussion.
- If beef banned, then it will lead to illegal trade. Today, it is legal but if once it got ban, people will hidely do such offensive task of animal killing.
- Beef is a cheap source of protein what will happen to the poor people who eats beef, we r depriving them of their food,
- In medicines also, animal by-product r used like their bones to fulfill calcium deficiency & many more. So, all Chemist & doctors will be in loss.
- There r many peoples outside India who don't know what is bread on chappati. So, they completely rely on animal flesh. It is their primary source of hunger . So, it shouldn't be banned.

CONCLUSION:-

(FOR)

According to me, beef ban is logical & we in India should all support this course. We have considered cow as a holy animal, & should continue to consider it as a holy animal.

(AGAINST)

beef ban should not be imposed on to people & everyone should have the right to have the kind of food they want.

4. Will Triple Talaq Bill empower Muslim Women

INTRO: Before Triple Talaq Bill passed in India, This Triple talaq was being practised in Muslim community. If the husband speaks Talak 3 times, the divorce will be done unlike in other communities in which both husband & wife need to give their consent for divorce. But in Triple Talaq if husband say talaq thrice either verbally or by a piece of paper, the divorce is meant to be done irrespective of wife consent. This was not empowering muslim women but rather making them to suffer. In Aug 2017, S.C. banned this & before that it was already banned in 17 countries including PAK.

PROS:-

- Giving this triple talag a shape of law, would preempt the muslim man to give divorce to their wife without their consent, b'coz this law abide by some rules in favor of women by Providing some amount as an alimony by husband go to wife.
- The bill is deterrence of this instant talaq b'coz the law will generate a fear inside them for reciting this triple talaq.
- By quashing triple talaq , muslim women will be treated equally as men. before this bill the women lead to suffer a lot as she was sacked from property & home & left with no money to step her life forward.

CONS:-

- This bill is criminalising triple talaq which is wrong as marriage is a civil contract. The person who violate this rule by saying talaq will be imprisoned for 3 years.
- It is a very sarcastic s.c. bill that reciting instant talaq will put the person behind the bar & there is no significance of saying talaq after the bill is passed. So, there is no meaning or sense to put the person behind the bar.

- What will wife & children do if husband is imprisoned he will not be able to provide any alimony to her wife.
- This major disadvantage of this bill is that it does not include opinion of wife regarding divorce as in Hindu Religion .
- The instant triple talaq bill would not be able to pass by S.C. If article 370 was not abrogated.

Special rule of law under Article 370

- The state residents of J&K have a separate set of laws. They were offered dual citizenship Of India as well as of J&K too, ownership of property like-land is only given to their residents neither any outsider can buy or own the land there & other fundamental rights.
- A370 was under the temporary provision. This autonomous provision was argued by Sheikh Abdulla to provide them permanent provision but it was not granted by central gov
- If any law is made by central gov! that it was directly apply in all states except J&K. The central govt. has to pass this law again at the legislative assembly of J&K to implement it there
- Who will be given the permanent residence of J&k is define under A35A. The person who is the resident there for 10 years from after independence time will be the permanent resident.

CONCLUSION -

There should be legal jurisdiction or law if 2 person willfully want to get separated. Enforcing triple talaq bill will allow every individual to go by a rule of law for divorce. But also criminalizing triple talaq shouldn't also be there to go with some legal proceedings or imprison someone if they still practice triple talaq by verbally speaking or writing 3 times to divorce their partner.

5.IS employment the only aim of education

INTRO: Education is the basic need for every individual as no word no dialog could be given if we r not literate. It comes from learning. The more we learn , the more educated we will be , and the better our life will be.

YES -

- Education & employment or a situation where education is an investment & we need a return from these investments. If you are not getting employment after investment then no return will be a cause of bad investment.
- I believe education has 2 purposes - empowerment & Creating dialog .Once we get employed in a company all these empowerment & dialog can also happen there to achieve more victorious result.
- In developing countries like India the primary need is employment.And if u don't have that level of education to earn for yourself than that education is a sheer waste.And earning comes from employment for which u must have some basic education .

NO :-

- When we empower someone to instill some values so that they can critically analyze things around them & about themselves & can create their own packet of excellence through which they can create opportunity as per their demands.
- A person can maximize his utility & productivity only if they r excellent in some sort of thing.And your excellence in working on something don't always check your educational intelligence or knowledge I have .If u r skilled in something u can create employment out of that.
- We should provide our hearts with satisfaction. And a job shouldn't be our only goal to educate ourselves.If I get into research & solve a bigger problem, the kind of satisfaction or the kind of utility we get will perhaps be much more to us than the society's perception of what my utility should be.
- There are many people who r not very educated or well-verse with study but are much more successful in their field of working. eg. modi,Ambani.
- The real essence is employment not the process of how we achieve it by becoming more & more sophisticated with education or by our own dialog & intellectual,

CONCLUSION -

I don't think that dialogue or empowerment are the only exclusive things that u need education for. Education is not some piece of bookish knowledge , derived theories or formulas that 1 must know to call themselves educated. We can make ourselves knowledgeable , trained by learning things in our surroundings, through human behaviour, by training ourselves in a particular domain .Money is the need that can come by any means whether u r much qualified or not but some basic education all must have to reach a threshold mark of acquiring minimum level of literacy.

6.Women empowerment a cause of increasing divorce rate

INTRO - Women r an integral part of a society. No one in a family can think of Carry forward their lineage without a women role. In earlier time, women were tortured a lot due to dowry, or for a girl child birth, Sati pratha. So, to curb all these practices women empowerment has come into picture

No:-

- The main cause of divorce is definitely not women empowerment. Yes, in some cases we can say that financial dependence for a women in a society as well as the ego problem to husband & wife lead to divorce.
- Nuclear family fashion is also a root cause as if they had any problem than there in a need of a 3rd person to sort out the issue which is not possible in a nuclear family:
- Western life-style & lack of moral values & sense of responsibility leading towards passion for glamour & high-profile life-style may also lead indirectly to divorce b'coz under such life style it is difficult for a couple to make Synchronization among social, financial & personal issues.

- I feel that every woman is a backbone of the family, when we educate the women, we educate the whole family. So, when we empower a woman, we empower the entire family. & it makes a family healthy. So, it's not the cause for divorce.

YES:-

- Earlier men saw women as a source of fulfilling desires. Women could not raise their voice against evils like-dowry, infanticide & monogamy. Divorce was considered a stigma.
- Women r considered a weak section of society bcoz they're dependent on man for their physical security and financial needs. And women r generally stereotyped that they r fit only to be in kitchen .So, they r given more moral support . And sometimes due to that they take over advantage of it and dominate man and treat them with contempt by putting false allegations on them of domestic abuse , sexual violence .So, in some way we can say that women empowerment is a cause of breakage of their marriage and increasing divorce rate.
- But the main reason for divorce is women empowerment changed equation of the society and create mis-understanding blw couples & lack of interaction due to lack of time multiplied it & finally misunderstanding concluding to divorce.

CONCLUSION -

However, education has led to women empowerment .women r now no longer dependent on men, for their basic necessity. It is good to be dependent but women should not dominate man.this may lead to divorce. They should shoulder equal responsibility for their families. it is also required that men don't value ego more than his wife.

I believe that women empowerment is tremendously wrecking the right of an Opportunity for qwomen. As a sense of high self esteem, today's women r not ready to suffer & compromise with marriage. Due to presence of women in civil & social platforms & professional platforms they can no longer stick to those traditional roles as the home-makers & to give more time to family. Hence, the result is dissatisfaction on both the sides. The husband emphasizes on duties and the wife wants to go out.

The wife who is educationally sound & financially well Off does not see the requirement of a determinant marriage.

7.Controversy as a market strategy

INTRO - Generally, in order to grab attention, some companies create controversy through Announcements, advertisements etc. Controversy as a marketing strategy is not new but now through social media controversial content go viral and generate more attention. But this Controversy can be quite risky So marketing professionals need to be quite careful when using controversy as a marketing strategy. In the present time it is very difficult to attract the attention of people using controversy when no of companies competing at the same time .

- several movie makers, & now creating some sort of controversy to reach more audience & to increase the no. of viewers, B'coz controversy generates more publicity. Mainly the small budget movies that do not have much budget for advertisement of their movie generate controversy.
- Even some actors make controversial statements just to market themselves. Bcoz controversy generates fame & generally movie makers hire actors that have more talent & fame. But such market strategy generates attention only for a short time if the content is not worth it, the attention will disappear as fast as it came.
- Controversy as a market strategy is sometimes risky b'coz if it uses any sensitive topic that hurts the sentiment of people, it may generate negative publicity & can affect the reputation of the company of film making.

CONCLUSION -

Controversy will work to market product but it should be used cautiously to avoid any bad reputation to the company. Before trying for market strategy people need to thoroughly assess the probable consequences to secure long term loyalty. To make it the product or the content should be worth the price.

8.Zero budget Natural Farming

INTRO: Under union Budget 2019, Nirmala Sitharaman said to promote this farming as a part of efforts towards doubling farmers' income by 2022. This farming is a set of natural farming methods which allows use of more & more natural substances to increase farming productivity. Here the substance uses more & more use of cattle dung, animal waste, jaggery etc. to be sprayed on soil which provides nutrients to the soil & avoids the use of chemical fertilisers. It is called Zero budget as the small investment that is made is compensated by intercropping ie... 2 as more crops grow next to each other at the same time.

PROS:

- The green revolution actually makes use of chemical fertilisers & pesticides. which deteriorates the soil quality & has high input cost. Organic compound was seen as the solution of the problem but it requires a large amount of manure & heavy compost. So, this farming was quite expensive.
- Requires very less Input costs to restore soil health & produces high nutritious food.
- It will prevent farmers from getting trapped under debt & govt. also do not have to spend crores of money on loan waiver schemes.

CONS:-

- Farming is done on an open area & is animal based farming practice, Cattle dung produces methane, ammonia, nitrous oxide which & greenhouse gases & degrade the environment.
- It is a very slow process. A large population can't be catered to with this farming scheme as it can't provide an abundant food supply.

CONCLUSION -

This type of farming is good in maintaining the fertility of soil by avoiding use of any harmful disinfectants , or any other chemical agents sprayed to soil and will also promote good health for people consuming such crops. But since such farming strategy can't suffice needs of large population due to slow processing, such farming can't be observed as long term solution to meet high demands. Hence, hard to implement it in reality on a large scale.

9. Is China threat to India.

INTRO :- In Asia, China & India are the 2 biggest countries. In some aspects China is dominating over India while in other aspects India overpower China. China is a developed nation while India is developing - Well this does not make much difference. They both are rival countries of each other.

THREAT :-

- China has a good defence system but it is helping our rival countries like - Bangladesh, PAK. So, it is indirectly causing problems for India.
- We saw a huge technological advancement in China, producing high quality finished goods which are more preferable by our people as well as others. Due to which we blindly rely on Chinese goods, more than India.

HELP -

- India is a country with high unemployment rate & Indians moving to other countries like - China for better employment. Chinese hired specialised doctors from India. Hence, is not threat in every case. It is rather supportive to India.
- In some cases we should learn something from China as we all know that it is 1st densely populated country before India & is trying a lot to control its population but we Indians consider our rising population our strength without considering lowering per capita GDP of our country due to high population index.

CONCLUSION -

China is a country of great innovation and technological advancements and much over us in tech and automation. So, instead of seeing china as a competitor we should Learn something from them as to how we can work to make same level of advancement in different tech sectors rather than considering China as a threat .And it is said that a wise enemy is better than a foolish friend. Then , we should see China as our strongest ally and a supportive partner rather than an arch enemy.

10.Industrial Revolution

INTRO:

- In the 3rd revolution, India is still under the nascent stage of development and mainly focuses on IT revolution, automation etc.
- 4th rev. based on a cyber collaboration system. It is the use of human, machine AI, robotics, nano technology, IOT etc. eg. Pokemon Go game uses augmented reality, automated cars as driver-less car r AI based mechanized cars which reduces the no. of road accidents as most accidents r caused due to human negligence.
- We will witness the elimination of lots of traditional jobs with revolutionising IT jobs and smart technologies which is changing the country's dynamics much faster.
- Under 1 & 2nd revolution, India was under british rule.

11. The Fall of Fb

INTRO: The year 2018 was very tough for Fb. many people were leaving fb in the wake of data scandal & security breaches. So, many people are predicting its mistakes.

- Cambridge Analytica data scandal is the 1st cause of Fb fall which was exposed in 2018. In 2013, cambridge analytica, a political consulting firm took personal data from people through an app on Fb.they conducted a survey to know people personal ideologies & was mentioned that it was for academic purposes. It was alleged that Cambridge Analytica helped Trump to win the 2016 presidential election.

- Due to this breach, users found it very insecure & left it. Users also lose interest in FB due to many new alternatives like - Instagram, whats app.
- Fb was trying to be overwhelming but lacking privacy. Fake news, hate speeches r now very common things on FB.
- Fb is now taking steps to ensure data privacy and various other severity measures to avoid any data breach or spreading or misinformation to users.
- If we analyse the mid time of 2018-19, it seemed fb dying a slow death. but it took a revival , built trust on users and now showing a remarkable growth in building users' reliance on its platform .

CONCLUSION:- it still have lots of users after it revamped its platform to prevent any likely fall out in the future and maintain a creditable position among its trusted users.

12.Should India ban Chinese Goods

INTRO:- What is forcing India to take these steps. India does not have any VETO Power .It has been requesting the UN to list Masood Azhar as a global terrorist from a long time but China is blocking it with its VETO power in the UN security council during Pulwama terror attack. All the countries were supporting the move except China .

YES -

- It is seen many times China blocking India's bid for becoming a member of the Nuclear Supply group using its VETO power. So, maintaining good relations with China isn't good for India to go with.
- There r many such goods which can be manufactured in India but due to cheap production cost and their high excellence in producing the same goods with high precision and in less time we prefer importing them with China.

NO -

- They are very much adept in producing goods with their smart, high profile tech which can't be furnished in India due to unskilled labour force and unavailability of such advance machineries in India. Hence, our reliance on Chinese market can't be compensated with cheap quality raw produce of our country. So, we can't simply put a ban on Chinese items.
- Fire Crackers that comes from China has many toxic chemicals, causing serious health concern. As a member of World Trade Org, India cannot ban simply import it from member countries.
- If we will ban Chinese goods, China may reciprocate that as we have seen at the time of US-China trade war issues.

CONCLUSION -

Our overdependence on China and our inability to produce the same goods in India making us incapable to simply put a import ban on Chinese goods but we can reduce our import from China by producing certain goods in India to save up the manufacturing ,excise and other cost and also by producing more and more number of goods locally in our country we will lead India on a progressive height of development and growth.

13.IT communication for conflict Management

Our communication and polite attitude form the backbone of a business in the way we deal with our clients and stakeholders. How progressively we run an organization through diplomatic tactics and pragmatic behavior is key to preventing bickering issues from arising in front of staff and clients or customers. Engagement and inclusion in handling key agendas and in every decision-making process require clear perspectives and favorable opinions from all business partners, stakeholders, and most importantly, employees, who play a crucial role in driving organizational growth. Effective and healthy communication is the primary utility for the growth and development of a company.

Effective strategies and approaches to handle disagreements and avoid conflicts, contradictions, and arguments include:

- Always remain clear and concise while expressing your views, as this sets a strong foundation for all business needs.
- Maintain a healthy attitude toward work and a good professional reputation by using a soft, polite, and amicable tone instead of being bossy with staff and key members.
- In contentious situations, avoid being prerogative or aggressive in coercing others to accept your viewpoint, especially when your reasoning is questionable or uncertain.
- Do not take matters into your own hands when you observe dissenting arguments among colleagues; instead, report the issue to senior management for arbitration.
- Discernment and discretion are essential when there are opposing views on a common problem. You must communicate with all parties to reach a favorable outcome without hurting anyone's personal sentiments.
- If conflicts arise within an organization due to high work pressure, remain open to dialogue and communication with seniors or supervisors to help reduce workload without negatively impacting company growth and productivity.
- In a strict, toxic, or unfriendly work environment, maintaining high morale requires building healthy relationships with colleagues through a soft and compassionate tone that reflects care and support, while keeping communication skills active and engaging.

14. Black and Grey ,the shades of life

INTRO:- Life has dif shades & color. The 2 of them r black & grey. both color represents the age diff, reality & disguise & many more.

- If we talk in terms of age perspective, Black represents a youth that depicts strength, seriousness & strong emotions, whereas Grey represents neutrality & balance.
- In the modern world , people who are sensitive have strong emotions and some are balanced and peaceful like grey color as they see life as neutral.
- Now a days it is difficult to find good people as pure white , so, we are left with the choice of choosing b/w black & grey.ie... Evil & normal person who r mixture of good & bad.

15. years of modi Gov

INTRO:In the month of April & may 2019 general elections were held & everybody was discussing the years of mod! Gov? NDA govt is very active unlike the provious gov? & this gov took steps to improve the interaction between gov& public which is active on social media as well. eg. In the Shaheen bagh protest, people's thoughts, opinions & their wishes were shown in public. As a result of it, grievance redressal & transparency of gov have improved a lot.

- In 2017, modi gov brought the biggest tax scheme -GST. GST revenue is below the estimated revenue. Due to which the average gross collection in this year is greater than the previous year.
- Swachh Bharat launch in 2014 highlighted the need for cleanliness. Under the mission, gov. constructed crores of toilets till 2018. Now, many people are taking steps to keep their surroundings clean,dirt free.
- Modi Gov has brought insolvency & bankruptcy cases in 2016 to recover non- performing assets. It is highly successful as it helps in recovering 3 lakh crore of NPAs.
- As a part of the Make In India initiative which was launched in 2014, the gov, took steps to improve the ease of doing business in India. It reduces lots of paperwork. As a result of this scheme India is ranked 77 out of 190 in the ease of doing business. As a result ,many people are now interested in investing & doing business in India.

- Startup India & standup India initiatives r now becoming successful b'coz India is now becoming the largest startup base in the world after the US & UK.
- Gov, started start up by tax exemption for poors , less paper work with their move with digital INDIA allowed less paper wastage with such Digital INDIA movement launch in 2015 that helped connecting 1 to 16 lakh villages to e-commerce
- Use of OFC cables , it Connected tier 2 & tier 3 cities , villages , sub urban part of India in 2018 with which many villages were provided with wifi hotspot .By making the internet access to villages, gov. also increases digital literacy rate.
- Investment in infrastructure has seen a rapid increase. As a result, roads & railways have improved.
- In 2019-20, the gov. has promised farmers to increase their income by 2022, Aayushmaan Bhaarat scheme (2018) provided 5 lakh of insurance cover to poor families.
- Discrimination of girl children came down with Beti Bachao beti Padhao aandolan by giving rightful education to every girl child.
- Demonetization was done to retrieve black money but it made people suffer a lot but the person raising black money was not duly caught.
- No proper action plans were made for women's safety. As a result rape crimes weren't reduced, eg... Case of Female doctor in Hyderabad ,Nirbhaya case r some outrageous issues came in public view but no justice was given to those victims.
- The government couldn't keep its promise of high employability Unemployment is still not in control.
- The education system has not improved to bridge the gap between the present education system & the industrial standard.

CONCLUSION:-

Modi government has done a lot in different straits of ,technology and tech , infrastructure , financial unrest , with different schemes for poors to mitigate poverty but still facing criticism due to its lenient attitude.

16.Computer Assisted coder and a self coder

Coding is a work to program your machine for certain tasks. In simple terms, it is the design of a working model to automate work by performing certain regressions in the background for a desired output. Whether you are a computer-assisted coder or a self-proclaimed coder, you need to be fundamentally conceptual, skilled, and principled in your code writing.

Similarity -

- Both write code to perform certain tasks in an easy and simplified manner by following a systematic approach with preset syntax and semantics. Writing code while meeting common guidelines and coding standards with a customized algorithm is a key principle followed by both.
- Certain key criteria of development—such as procedural coding styles, functional requirements, and underlying parameters for designing code structures using top-down, bottom-up, or recursive approach of writing code categorically remain the same.

Differences -

- A manual coder can maintain strong command over code restructuring and reprogramming even when scenarios change. On the other hand, relying heavily on machines to code may weaken one's rationale for understanding every nuance of code writing and implementing it logically.
- When a coder understands a problem and devises a solution based on personal intelligence, it increases effectiveness in handling similar scenarios and enables generalization of logic for complex and critical tasks in a simplified and organized manner.
- If a coder uses different online sources for coding, they may encounter varied logic for the same problem statement and risk selecting an approach that leads to confusing or unfathomable outcomes for end users attempting to understand the code.

Conclusion -

To sum up, working as an alone coder allows one to present ideas and knowledge in a defined, logical, and demonstrative manner, resulting in qualitative code. In contrast, a computer-assisted coder may develop reasonable logic that yields high throughput and low latency, delivering work in less time, but this may not always serve the purpose of creating highly maintainable and easily understandable code for the end user.

17.Non performing Assets

INTRO:- Banks give loans to people & companies with some rate of interest to be paid back to banks so that the bank gets profit but some people or companies don't repay the loan to the bank. The banks don't earn profit. NPA issues causing crisis in banks. As of 2018, NPA loans are about 10 lakh crore . Banks issuing loans without thoroughly analysing the capacity of the borrower company.

- Banks themselves do not check info. about repayment behaviour of person or company to check whether they can repay the loan in a timely manner. This way banks can identify the loans that are likely to become NPAs.

CURE: To sort the NPA issue, the gov. has to re-capitalize banks so that bank can issue new loans & do not come in loss.

- The gov NPA scheme is only for the Micro, small & medium enterprise. As large firms r not affected, Insolvency & bankruptcy law in 2016 which could recover 3 lakh crore rupee of bad loans in 2 year

- Before lending money, bank should thoroughly analyze the capability of the company to repay the loan.

- After issuing the loan, the bank should check the performance of the company in a timely manner & where the borrowed money is spent on should also be checked.

18. Statue of Unity

INTRO:- sou is the statue of great freedom Fighter Sardar Vallabh bhai Patel on 31st Oct 2018. It is the present world's tallest statue of 182 m.

Favor -

- It was praised & also faced so much criticism. It's because many small kingdoms joined India at time of Independence. This statue shows that he will be remembered by future generations & it is a return of investment as it is developed as a tourist spot. a plus to the tourism industry of India & will be a plus to the Indian economy.

- Many people were criticising the move b'coz of the large spending made on it.
- This statue will increase the employment opportunity & it is expected that the no. of visitors will increase. So, it has the potential to generate more employment opportunities in the future.
- All the huge statues of the world have a wide space but SOU was constructed on a very narrow base. which highlights India's engineering skills.

AGAINST -

- India is still a developing country & has lots of problems that need immediate attention. Giving priority to a statue of Rs. 2500 crore rather than the amount of problems that India is facing seems to be an unbiased decision.
- There are many great freedom fighters who deserve recognition. So, India should have spent money for the statues of all great freedom fighter. Instead of building sou, the gov should build hospitals & schools in the name of sandar Vallabhai to honor him that would help in the development of India as well as serve the purpose of passing on the legacy of great Freedom fighter to the future generation.
- There is no guarantee that it will become one of the best tourist spot of the world.

CONCLUSION: -

It's all about priority, In present India needs to spend on human development, poverty alleviation & improvement in agriculture before spending so much in SOU.

19.#meToo

INTRO:- This movement was started to empower sexual assault survival through empathy. In 2010 #MeToo became a trend in India via actress Tanushree Dutta, who accused Nana Patekar of sexual harassment. This movement inspired many celebrities & they share their personal experience of sexual abuse.

PROS:-

- It is very difficult for women to be open about their sexual appearance but this movement encouraged women to speak up against sexual misconduct they have been through.
- Not even women several men also share their personal experience of sexual abuse that they face.

CONS:-

- There were some false allegations with the aim to damage reputation. Many came up using this move to gain fame among public by making up some fabricated stories of sexual misconduct that they haven't gone through and targetted many innocent people by falsely trapping them without any genuine concern.
- This movement reaches only upto celebrities not to common people. If a common person shares their experience, no one would be interested to hear from them.
- peoples seems to be in double side by supporting #MeToo at 1 Side & creating item songs at other side.

CONCLUSION -

- proven offenders should be punished immediately so that it deters others to do the same,
- If some one places false allegations, they should be punished too to avoid tyranny to innocent.

20.Population of India (Asset on Liability)

INTRO:- In my opinion, the population of India is vast and highly diversified. 5% of the population of India is rich, the rest r poor & middle aged people.

Assets -

- Maximum technocrats of India shared a good top level position in different world countries which shows India as a leading super power.
- Human resource is the strength of India but population should be made a quality resource rather than quantity resource.
- India has a huge population with 60%, young age which is the reproductive age in which they can do some national development. So, these peoples can be trained & motivated to do something for the country, which is our strength.

Liability -

- Illiteracy, poverty, poor health index are some of bad parameters where India is counted. Such population of people who r physically, socially or financially well developed can't create national development.
- socio-economic parameter says that we are not good in that & 60% of population in BPL.
- India is a country where it is taught that not to do Open defecation. So we understand where our counting is. So, rich rural India is such illiterate that we don't need to go far.

CONCLUSION:-

Poverty is there in every country. So, India is not the exception but the ratio of poor to rich in India is very high. If there are rich people then they are damn rich & poor & damn poor. So, there is a wide gap between rich and poor. Poverty can't be eradicated completely but the government can reduce it to minimize the gap between the rich & poor. So, India may convert from developing to developed country.

21. One Nation 1 Election

INTRO - India is a democratic country in which citizens r given right to elect their representative. And election should be conducted timely which can give power to people to choose the leader who can work for their welfare and improve socio-economic condition of our country. Now the point is whether there should be multiplicity in conducting elections or some 1 poll 1 nation type of pattern should be there to save extra time and money and also have a fair choice of choosing right elected member.

YES -

- Election Polling & campaigning requires a lot of money. Hence, state & central elections should be held simultaneously.
- If both elections were held together then gov. Will have plenty of time left for the welfare of the country as they will save lots of time for campaigning.

No:-

- If the elections are held together then lots of police forces will be needed at the same time which will be difficult to be provided as such a large force is not available to spread across the entire nation.
- State & central assembly elections must be held differently but it can happen that for State elections at least 5-6 states must be grouped together for polling, our police workforce will suffice 5-6 states group & will save money.

CONCLUSION -

There should be a 1 nation 1 election policy to save extra time and effort and also money but practically it's not possible in a country like India to have a fair voting system by organising polling booths in multiple locations all over India at the same time because a large police troops and a robust surveillance team can't be deployed at the same time everywhere so there are high chances of unfair practices. But What could be done to have certain mechanism to allow certain set of states for simultaneous polling. This way it won't be purely 1 nation 1 election but 1 nation and few election.

22.Coalition Politics in India

INTRO: - There r total 545 seats in Lok Sabha court of which 2 r reserved for anglo Indian seats So, in remaining 543 seats, the party that gets more than 1/2 of the seats will form the govt but what if no party wins 1/2 of the seats, then, 2 or more party will form an alliance. Together, if they have seats on more than 273 seats they forms the coalition gov, at the national level. It can be formed at state level too, from 2014-2019, NDA form the alliance with BJP having majority of the vote.

BENEFITS:-

- Coalition gov will represent the choice of more no of voters when compared to a single party having powers.
- Every party has some great leaders, coalition gov allow these great mind, to work together & hence will be more productive
- Every political parties have some ideologies like - I party focus on alleviating poverty, some party believes in the development of economy So, if more political party will be in power they will work in diverse goal.

DISADVANTAGE:-

- 1 party may have to compromise even when they r not in favour of certain objective or policy but still have to follow with to keep the party going just to avoid the collapse of gov.
- If any party withdrew support with the alliance than it may end their coalition and that will be end of gov.

CONCLUSION :-

success of coalition gov. depends on several factors - mutual respect among political parties , good leadership etc, And having a coalition government have mutual benefits for all the parties who r in alliance but maintaining trust and reliance and admitting strong support for the party to avoid any verbal argument or breakage is difficult to go along with when there r opposing views . Parties in coalition have equal benefits but weaker parties r pressed too thin to carry their coalition forward to gain from it by putting aside their self respect and dignity .

23.Impact of technology on jobs

Intro - Today , technology has changed our life a lot. Old forms of education system & jobs are now becoming digital which is making us technologically advance. Technology has made a number of traditional jobs redundant. eg. AI replacing employees in banks.

-ve -

- Not adapting self with the new technology results in job losses. mainly the low-skilled workers r worst hit. Even IT jobs r threat due to AI
- Heavy loss to companies using manual workers rather than using smart technology.
- Income inequalities due to the labour force who are technologically advanced compared to those who r working manually there is a high risk of job loss for manual workers.

+ve -

- Though technology is replacing some jobs .It is also creating different kinds of jobs.eg...cybersecurity.
- With advanced technology when the number of job opportunities increases ,demand for technically skilled youth will increase too.

CONCLUSION :-

- Technology is changing the nature of jobs. & hence there is a need to upgrade ourselves, to mould ourselves into a better upgraded form of technology.
- Our education system should be modified to prepare ourselves for these jobs. eg. Recently IIT Hyderabad introduced a new BTech course in AI. So, this way we catch up with technological advancement and there is a need to provide digital literacy to every 1. so that everyone should flourish equally.

24. Is India Ready for Olympics

INTRO:- Olympics is a prestigious games word over & national pride is associated with such games. India has held the commonwealth couple of times but OLYMPICS not even a single time.

NO :-

- As we know that India is good only in a couple of games. Even for our national game hockey India has not won the Olympics for long. When we got independence during that time we used to win. Hockey is the only game in which we have won medals maximumally. But right now in Hockey we are not doing that. India is doing well in shooting, wrestling but not in other games, not in athletics, swimming.
- India is good in games like- cricket which is not played in the Olympics. These r many games, in the Olympics, that we don't play b'coz we don't have it's infrastructure, stadium built in our country.
- our previous experience in games over international level wasn't any good. Commonwealth games were organised in Delhi 2010, in which corruption allegations were put over Delhi. so, the commonwealth organiser put a ban on India, commonwealth games. If India was not able to handle Commonwealth games then Olympic which has a very wide base over commonwealth could be way out of india's reach to host.
- Commonwealth involving maximum of 50 countries but Olympic 200 countries, so lot of money & resources r required to make it at the international Level.

Yes:-

- A lot of change has come in infrastructure since past 20 years & infrastructure will be developed more over future years. We just need to develop a single city as a big sports city, not the entire country. so, it can be done in future years.
- India is catching up with new sports. Football under 17 ,cricket world cup was done. so, we are working on diff- 2 domains.

CONCLUSION: -

Yes, I believe that certainly India can host Olympics but needs lots of preparations. Presently we are not ready but nothing stops us from hosting the Olympics in the near future. If we started pitching at the international level to construct a sports city . so, in the near future we can be ready for that.

25.Youth in India. Confident on Confused

INTRO:- The person under the age of 15-29 years r youth. They need to be casted & moulded in a shape that steps them to the right direction.

CONFIDENT :-

- Why do I think of youth as confident b'coz. Today's youth has a vision , a clear pathway to follow to pursue in their career.
- Unlike youth of 30 years back. They don't have much skills & talent to be confident over the job & this is b'coz they don't have the right platform to learn with .But today social media has given us a wide platform to gather lots of content. Hence, it has boosted us and made our life easier and confident. That helps us to take firm decisión.
- Today's youth has started so many org. Our youth have also started leading organisation, they have become the CEO of the org. eg.. Sundar pichai. Youths today like him have high self esteem just b'coz they are confident. Being confident, I can say that we're on the right track where to hold ourselves back, we're clear about our goals & r ambitious to succeed.

CONFUSED:-

- Confidence can't come by watching things on social media that motivates us but r not practical in reality to implement .
- There are many things that are not always factual & made on false presumptions .We watch content having high views and develop our thesis based on it even if it doesn't carry much weight and not factually making any sense.
- We have lots many streams to choose from but no one to guide us which 1 to opt for. We r that confused that we r making our opinion on the basis of others, Our decision making capability is so poor that we depend on others to enlighten us.

CONCLUSION :-

Confidence comes with clear guidance. If u r not firm in your decision making than it means u r confused. And u can only be certain about something when u have the right kind of knowledge ,and a clear guidance to develop your understanding behind something. And, I think today's youth has a clear roadmap of what to pursue but don't have the right source to chase their aspirations. So, it's not the object it's the right medium they don't have to focus on their objectives.

26.Merit or seniority which should be consider for promotion

merit on seniority which is better criteria for Promotion

In some situations obviously merit is considered while in some other situations seniority is given priority. eg. In a cricket match it doesn't matter how senior U r ,your capability matters that how good u play.

Merit:-

- If a person is very capable then they must get a promotion. every private org. runs on this principle.
- To gain high merit, we need to compete with our rivals. Hence competition gives a chance to merit.
- Good merit is always fruitful for the org. or institution as it increases the reputation in the world market.

Seniority: -

- Experience has value. eg... if a person works for a Longer time then they might be more experienced than a Fresher & will also be senior.
- Senior r respected more in an Org. even their technical excellence or merit is not that good as of a newly inducted member .
- with seniority our physical energy goes down. Hence, we can't perform with the same energy as we did when we were in our young age.

CONCLUSION: -

In my opinion both merit & seniority have their own advantages. so both should be considered for promotion.

27.EVM Vs ballot paper.

INTRO:-

These are voting systems. Initially we used ballot paper but. It is replaced by EVM. We just need to press a button to cast the vote. EVM has many advantages but has the threat of malfunctioning & hacking.

EVM :-

- It is secure, Probability to destroy votes through E voting. is very less. Votes casted cannot be easily destroyed.So, It's fault proof.
- All the votes we cast, r stored in a database which is very secure & time saving while in ballot system counting of votes involves paper cost ,counting the pages as well as name of voted person so for paper case there is extra money & time required.
- A new technique was installed in Evm - VVPAT (vote variable Paper Audit train). When we cast our vote a slip will be generated & with that slip we can verify the person to whom we casted our vote. B'coz before VVPAT there were many allegation on Evm, that people vote for someone but actually casted to some other person.
- EVM is better b'coz it is a demand of time but can get damaged with frequent use but is good in some other aspect. so, in either case,there is some risk of failure , malfunctioning , cyber threats.
- In EVM indirectly we r saving tree. Hence, mitigate global warming effect.In case of paper ballot , lots many trees r to be cut down for papermaking.So , not good from environmental standpoint.

Paper Ballot :-

- It is not prone to malfunctioning due to no digital machine involvement, but has a threat of votes .
- Problem of vote, getting casted to a dedicated person but accidently goes to another person is not with a ballot paper .
- No button is here in this system where old people face issues & press the wrong button & also there is no problem of hacking. b'coz no software is installed in it.

- People involved in voting may tamper the paper voting by themselves by changing & re-writing names on the paper.

CONCLUSION:

EVM is prone to hacking but is time-saving & cost-effective. Paper ballot has threat of votes damage but is good in other aspects. Fear is there in either of 2. But still people find Evm better. Because it is demand of time and is cost saving.

28. Communalism in Politics

INTRO:- India is a diversified country with people of different caste, religion. This diversification is our beauty, but when these communities come under argument then such diversity becomes bad. Communalism in politics occurs when we favor a particular community.

FOR:-

- It helps certain minority groups. eg... If I talk about BSP, then it caters to the needs of dalit who are a lower & weaker section of society. Hence, communalism is in some way not bad.
- Communalism is also used as a pressure group. If the farmers are under some trouble then they can create their own community to force the government for their demands.

AGAINST-

- It divides the country if the ruling party is a communist party. It may misuse the authority to harm other communist party. eg... Before the coalition of J&K, their residents wanted J & K to be a separate nation under article 370.
- BJP used its power to make his side 18 MLAs from opposition party congress.
- Various parties use it as a tool to increase their vote banks from a particular community. Such communalism in politics do not make a fair decision to all but a biased decision towards a community

CONCLUSION: -

Communalism is necessary as it promotes & favors a particular section but such communalism should not be against any other religion or a community.

29.Would 100%. FDI investment be good For Indian Economy

INTRO:-

With high FDI in India it would help in expanding our national economy. We would welcome new trade and people ties. And will have diversification in brands of different commodities. But there r some good to be noted things about FDI but some pitfalls too with high FDI rate.

FAVOUR -

- The people who will set up FDI in India will also pay taxes to the Indian gov. So, revenue will be generated. & it will be a plus point to our economy.
- When different countries will make their setup then it will form a diversified, price sensitive market. So, India would be able to compete at the international level.
- When multiple FDI's will be there than competition level among them will also be high & they will launch good quality product & service So, it will be beneficiary for the local consumers as well as they can have good quality of product for them
- If there is 100%. FDI , it will bring out a systematic methodology in our country and will increase the value of our currency. So, the value of the Indian rupee will increase. Hence, beneficial for the country

AGAINST:-

- Small retailers will cut out of the market. So, it will create unemployment for them.
- If FDI is set up in India, then at the corporate level it will hire skilled people that match the requirements of their post. so, what about people who are at intermediate level?
- Their FDI's will not give them a job. If the FDI companies will cater to the needs of Indian consumers by providing high quality goods at a very reasonable price then. they won't be able to compete at the international level with that price.

CONCLUSION :-

High FDI rate would promote employment by new job creation but many traditional jobs too will come on a dying state. some new jobs will be created but some old trading sectors will lose their employment.so, we should encourage FDI because investors will pay for the goods and plant setup to our local government which will contribute in economic growth of our country.But Maximizing FDI could also cause jobloss for local investors.So, government must be mindful of it to allow only needed companies to setup and operate in our country.

30.Job displacement with AI

INTRO :-

Talking of the reforms AI brought in job sectors than there r countless positive and negative sides of it in life of a working person.It has opened up many new opportunities for us to grow but also impeded our way to work and evolve in certain sectors. It's a big revolution in tech industry and taught us how to cope up with complex situation with simplicity. But there r some ups and down for us in working with AI that we must look at.

Positives -

- Incorporating AI in our working would help easing our everyday workload and in smartly dealing with our critical work issue.
- With the evolution of AI in job sectors we can increase the productivity of our work by minimising the time and extra workload per head that we used to give while working with traditional machines.

- It will generate employment for young generation by creating new jobs in market.
- In other working sectors such as banks , government offices, railway and in hospitals it will save extra time and effort at the employer as well as the consumer ends. Earlier for normal appointment or seat booking we were to stand in long queues for seat reservation or in consultation with doctors but now things will turn a lot more digitised that in a quick span we can get our work done without any wait time.
- In the educational field, AI would come out to be a great source of learning and seeking knowledge for students. They can easily get their query answered and conceptualize themselves with all tough theories, code or programs without any extra juggling or a mental fatigue.

Negatives -

- There will be more job cut for traditional workers who can't adapt themselves working with AI.
- A machine trained with AI will improve our work efficiency by completing long hour work in a second. So , with automation with AI will take the job of all manual workers by completing work of 1000 workers single handedly in a short time. But 1 thing is to be noted the finishing and craftiness that a physical work can give a machine can't produce same goods with that fineness and perfection.
- There will still be a threat to our personal security due to identity theft , our personal information disclosure and increase in the rate of cyber fraud and digital hacking. Working with smart tools and technologies, there will be a security breach of our personal information being compromised. So, there are more vulnerabilities and high risk while exposing ourselves much with AI.
- Talking about how much worthy it will come out to be for school and college learning students. Of course it will help them giving easier access to things and rightful information that they need while working on their assignment or seeking knowledge. But somewhere getting everything cut and dried they will destroy their logical thinking and rationale in developing deep understanding for something. And their thinking ability, mental adaptability would go down.

Conclusion -

There r some good key takeaways that we must learn while working with AI but it also has some downsides which can't be put aside. And we must kick in using AI in our day to day life as we can easily tackle our complex work situation much smartly in a short time but we should also not get oblivious of the fact that AI could become a threat to our national security and also for our physical and mental well-being. So, I would say we must make ourselves tech ready working with AI and advance tech but by limiting it's excess use.

Some Other Useful Topics

1. Changing Education

-> Education is a toolset for learners to shape their career and future. It is the piece of knowledge that can only be earned through one's hard work and determination, and can never be stolen; it only grows when shared. It's a source of wisdom and enlightenment. A degree can be purchased with money but not knowledge. It stays within and can only be acquired through learning by breaking every dimensions which r acting as a barrier, restraining us from imbibe the knowledge and wisdom that's our 1st duty to ourselves. It never goes to waste and always work in our mental build up to strengthen our memory, brain grasping power, and make us more wiser, sharper and more of a sage with our continuous learning for progressive growth in our career and future.

Why learning is important

-> It is said, "A walk of a thousand miles starts from 1 step at a time". To achieve something bigger in life 1 has to pass through every small stumbling blocks 1st, which r a stepping stone for u to cover your miles of journey. If u dream something bigger in your life than your learning are your stepping stone to make your dreams come true. Learnings r some set of knowledge which r a guide, a key to your working and laid a framework for a worthwhile future. It gives us an abstract knowledge of something for your work and yielded output. They r a pavement, an ideation for a deep, solid understanding of something.

Education need

-> It's a base for us to set a career breaking path that could give a supporting edge to our future and making flight of our expectations meeting realities of an astonishing world, a world where u draw an identity of your own and set yourself an exemplary for others to learn from u and laud u on your defining journey that transformed u from a beginner to a shining figure among public.

Having a shallow understanding of something can be destructive sometimes when your output demands a more explanatory, thorough response, but your results r very unclear, lop-sided to what is expected. Which demonstrates need for a good education to give you a firm back-up support whenever u r off-track, in dismissal to take a right decision for yourself.

Some key giveaways of good education

* A good education will make u meritorious in your academics and a good social image in society.

* U can chase your dream with the right kind of knowledge and excellence and can turn your aspirations into a reality.

* U can easily cross that bar and touch the threshold set for top-level elite minds who use their studies as a weapon of war to compete among crowds of people for a distinction.

* U can quell your economic issues of low money by educating yourself for a high-profile role to build your prestige in your network of people and solve your money problems on the get-go.

* By gaining a good education u can be productive for your country by building a model cataloguing your work systematically to benefit u and your country as a whole.

* U can lay a ground for your next generation by giving them your piece of knowledge for which u have given your years of hard work in educating yourself for a brighter tomorrow.

By educating self we educate the world. Our 1 step towards learning can be a life changer for our future, with a plethora of opportunities for us in choosing the right career path for a thriving future. Knowledge leads to excellence, which is a road to thousands of open networks for our career building and a brightening future. Educating yourself is your 1st service to nation, and depriving anyone of their basic right to education is swindling your own country by ripping off their children from access to basic education, which is their 1st calling to bring some tangible, noticeable change in themselves and their country.

Learning in realtime

~ As we move from pre-schooler to kindergarten, our life sees a new shift from baseball and toys towards learning, and we infuse our minds with an ocean of thoughts and ideas about nature, culture, history, and numbers. Life goes on in circles of daily happenings of good and bad, but our learning never stops. And every phase of our life teaches something. A burden of books becomes cumbersome as we move from kindergarten to elementary school, then to high school, and intermediate. We spend our money, time, and energy to come out as a processed product from a factory. But r we given the right kind of knowledge and learning worthy enough to get a well-suited work, a reasonable job with enough salary, and a good social status for which we have invested in through all these years in our studies.

* Most of the things we study through books or online media are only a small %age of what sounds useful in real life. Whether that be physics laws, maths theorems, or natural occurring phenomena of science. Very little of it, we can actually derive from our daily lives.

* Getting a bookish knowledge with no real-time demonstration is incomplete knowledge, only for scoring marks in exams, having no significance in real life.

* Learning through online platforms or attending online classes r not so interactive. Digital boards, lessons through slides or video presentation r not much explanatory and create many doubts in readers' minds.

* In a classroom of a number of students, not all can have the same mental capability and grasping power. Things explained in a class can be easily grasped by some students, but not all. And due to hesitation or a feeling of being misjudged, students don't clarify their doubts openly among everyone.

* Every student pays equal fees, but all r not mentally alike. Faculties give their major focus on bright students who can give them better results and mostly turn a blind eye to those who r not so talented, dumbfounded. This is 1 drawback of group studies.

Trend of online Education

~ Nowadays, our studies have become so simple with an innumerable number of online learning platforms with which we can easily master the art of learning. With advanced training available online and easy-to-understand online tutorials, our physical classrooms r now just becoming a showpiece material for publicity to be hung as a hall of fame or some clips for a brochure

We can get world-class education online at a minimum pay than in an offline learning under a trainer orchestrating us, pointing out our inability, and sometimes picking faults in our work. We can get 1-to-1 doubt-clearing sessions and an easy explanation of our queries in an online mode.

But there r still some downsides of online learning that 1 must look into -

* Taking certification online through a prestigious board or organisation is considered, but doing it with a non-reputed platform that may even give u good learning, but a certificate earned from there is just a piece of paper.

* Sometimes our money goes to waste when an online tutor or course looks so genuine, and knowledge worthy while registering, but turned out to be a great boast, little roast with all hype and no show in reality.

* We become victim of online scams while paying for certain courses online, which appear to be from some trusted sources but are actually a fraud money making business for scammers to charge by fooling us.

* We can easily raise a query and get it answered in a physical classroom than a digital. Any doubts in an online class remain as in becoz we can't get a spontaneous reply to our queries in an online mode, and wait for the comments to be read and answered through <http://FAQs.So>, online sessions r not as interactive and answerable as an offline class could be. for a learner.

Competitive exams, job vitality, and falling health

~ We spend years studying just for a good-paying job and a stable future. Our health goes down, our body becomes frailer, weaker in prepping up for exams, for a good ranking, and a good job. But after all these years of hardwork what we get in output is poor health and an uncertain future after failing in exams. Now, since a job is our 1st need, no job, no afterlife of marriage, family, and saturation in career. So, we keep on trying for good results. After paying a good amount in studies, there is always a 50-50 probability of clearing exams with flying colors or meeting with dejection.

We say no pain, no gain. U can't excel in your studies, exams, or in your work without putting yourself like a hard-core worker in your work. A health deterioration is pretty obvious when u give your heart and soul into something. But what's worse than that is that we gave up on ourselves to work hard after failing once or twice. Some unforeseen situation of failing in exams or job loss puts us into depression, or sometimes we resort to committing suicide.

2. Water , a lifeform

Water is the 1 and only resource which sustain our life and we can't survive without it not for more than a day or 2 . It is the most precious form of resource which may available for free but values like a priceless dime. And I understand its value only in its absence. It's a free form of equitable resource and shares among everyone irrespective of your economic wealth. Whether you're rich or poor, no one can deprive you its access. I can live without food, shelter and every necessity of their life but can't do without water. Water is life and without it our existence is next to nothing. Every molecular object we see in our surroundings has presence of water in some of its form. Every man-made object we use has constituents of water in different state. Every inanimate object or a living body consumes water in its synthesis and development.

Earth is composed of five elements: air, water, soil, fire, and space. These five elements are considered the fundamental building blocks of nature and the universe. Any of the missing elements could disproportionate the natural composition of substances present in our ecosystem. But without water, the presence of a sustainable atmosphere is unfathomable. There wouldn't have been any life on earth, no greenery, no vegetation, in a dried, barren land in a hot air balloon type of atmosphere. With water, we have a planet that is more liveable, breathable, eco-friendlier.

Water and its resourcefulness with money

~ Water has its many forms as sea, river, ponds, underground water or in the form of glaciers as ice caps. And constitute 71% of our earth's crust with water but only a small percentage of it is safe to drink, potable. But in spite of knowing this we use it less but waste a lot. And wasting of water is flowing of money. Money once lost can be earned but losing water is losing life. No water bodies, no species not even us can sustain our life in absence of it. Water is fuel to our body to make it run and function. Without it our body too would corrode like a machine under insufficient supply required in making of our body. How much money we invest in our making, our body gives the same return and water may be priceless but much more dearer than the invested money for a fuller body functioning.

Over Utilisation of water

~ We know water is our basic need but still we don't use it optimally instead waste it considering it's a free resource, readily available. And we have never realised how tough our life would be when this free form of resource becomes scarce. Today, it is free so we waste it and when its abundance won't be here we would know its real worth. We understand importance of things when it is not around. Think of a situation when there are no microbial species in our planet, will plants survive without it? Just with air, sunlight. Can there be a sustainable ecological presence with no microbes in nature who decompose waste into a more biodegradable substance for plants as compost for their manuring, in our body as probiotics, in form of tiny bacteria that our body needs. They balance and maintain our biodiversity, as a corollary water draws the same proposition because without them life is of no little importance at scale.

Our body needs 70% water to keep it healthy. Cooking, dishes, laundry, cleaning, our bath all consumes gallons of water daily. And when we multiply it with the number of households it results in many millions of metric tonnes of our daily consumption. We waste water like shredded piece of paper and didn't realise for a minute how our life would be with little or no water. A theory says that "energy can neither be created nor destroy and can only be transferred from 1 form to another". Water too has a form of energy of convection current flows through it which changes its state from liquid to gas. And form a reversible cycle through rainfall which is available to us as underground water. And by wasting such water in any form we r causing our water level to decline and putting lives of our coming generations at risk of worsening.

Why to preserve water from its excessive use and wastage and to conserve it like a custodian of nature from external suspended particles and contaminants has many delving features to look into -

- Water keeps our environment cooler from the warmth of sun and retain good climatic condition under moderate temperature.
- It keeps every living bodies alive by acting as a cure to several skin diseases and by making us fit and healthy from within.
- Every production activity in factories requires water to manufacture goods. Whether that be raw goods and materials of house making, toys or plastic ware , cooking utensils , or our cars and vehicles .
- The clothes we wear ,house we live on , our food , cars or even mobile batteries. All such commodities gives us finishing goods which intakes lots of water for a good , replenished , refined end products.
- Lots of water blows up in irrigation and crops enrichment. washing off fruits and veggies, cooking used large quantity of water.We can't stop feeding ourselves and so can't minimize excess use of it .
- Artificial rainfall is done for pollution control . Cloud seeding is done with dry ice , sodium iodine in warm cloud for it to gain moisture and gather water droplets to precipitate as rainfall or snowfall.
- Water carries many medicinal qualities and used as a remedy for cardiovascular disease, to dilate blood in winters , for pain reliving with hot sauna bath or steam rooms. Water used in nebulizer in steam form to act on choking throats , cough , cold .

Looking to all these it becomes very much evident how water accentuate its importance in our life . And we must be notable enough to know how to suffice our need by using water minimally if certain water crisis of drought or scarcity can arise in future.

Water is most precious, quintessential form of life and needs us to be little more carious to save it from the doomsday calling. Flowing it needlessly can cause us trouble for long term and could make us to suffer from its scarcity.We say "many a little makes a mickle" .Which implies that every drop of it is valuable and must not be wasted. Because our few drops of water could bring to someone an ocean of love and happiness.Things which are of little value to us can be of great importance to others who makes daily struggle for those few ounces of water which we waste casually on the go by keeping our taps open for longer hours even when not in saving a few drops of water daily we can save many lives , for whom getting access to clean , drinking water is a nut cracker. So , Save water save life.

3.A peek into sporting world

Sports has always been a biggest form of entertainment and fun media for viewers. And becomes a matter of pride and entitlement when it is played in an international level involving 2 intervening countries where 1 is ours. It feels like a battle of war where 1 country subdued the others and claim their victory in an international sporting arena. Whether it be cricket, football or hockey when played on a battleground of sports reminds us of those world wars when our country fought bravely and set ourselves free from being enslaved to others. And when our team wins it feels like our win from the long evolving battle and we relish those winning moments by bursting crackers, dance and party. Games play a very pivotal role in shaping not just a shiny image for our country in a sporting world but also helps in keeping up with a good and healthy body making .

Our personal development with sports

~ We try every trick written in a rule book to keep us fit as a fiddle . We spend hours in gym , take time from our busy schedule for running , exercising and do heavy expenses on buying fitness equipments , in gym but can't give few minutes of our daily routine in games which has countless merit over other means of exercises we do to keep us healthy. Doing heavy exercises made us short of breath , we hyperventilate and started gasping for more oxygen , face body fatigue, muscle cramps and sometimes minor wear and tear for body with excessive body functioning in lifting , crutches , bends . But none of such heavy weight activities r required if u make sports a part of your daily life.

Some delecting upsides of outdoor gaming activities to delve into -

- It's a restive form of exercise for body to move your muscles freely for a perfect, chiseled body . It may not be a fleeting gushes of jumps and Yanks but a painless daily exercise routine to keep a body perfect in shape ,size and figure.
- By playing games regularly u can be a perfectionist in that field .Can turn a novice to a pro in sporting and can make your talent more revealing to others with u outperforming towards your competitors.
- With your skillful sporting technique u can represent yourself as a smashing player and could set records for a level up journey in your career . And could stood up as a proud citizen for your country.

- Sports balances our mental and physical strength. It relaxes our brain, nervous system and sends a signal from mind to body to calm it down in case of an adrenaline rush out of fear or anxiety. When mind stays happy, it calms our heart and body healthy.

Our role in giving India a global presence

~ We give our entire life in studies, job and in making career but not even a share of that hardwork in contributing to our country's growth and development. Sports which can give us a global recognition in the world, a place for our country in global ranking and huge respect and honour to our family, requires some discretionary measures by every individual to be a part of it not just as an onlooker but by playing it at a national level. Do something remarkable and be the one holding the trophy, not the one holding the bouquet. Stop clapping for others and start building a life worth clapping for.

Our Expedition for national level Games

~ Hardwork requires courage and your courage gives you confidence to do a task for a succeeding result. A building is made from small bedrocks of concrete. there is no fast and spontaneous get through to cover your miles of journey in 1 step. We walk baby steps from a ground level to reach a height. There is no leap-bound, no minimalist technique to achieve something in a single throw. When it comes to making career in sporting field we too go through a systemised, pre-definitive set of process to give our country a leg up. We join some sports club/academy, practice there to get selected for a local and district level games, then play at state or regional level, participate in national level championship, play there to place ourselves highly in the Federation's national-level event of sports, achieve good ranking and be a part of their federation, compete in different national level games to associate ourselves in an international sporting club to play for our country worldwide.

Space, science, sports are some of the field lines of growth and development for a country in which we as an individual can work to give our country an upliftment at a global scale. And working in the field of sports sets a delimiter for us to stand out from the crowd and make our own rising, shining image in hoards of people among which we were once a commoner with no identity of our own.

Making career in sports would yield out -

- A good developing health for our body, a maintained figure and a personality.
- A reputable image in society and an identity of our own in public.
- A name of our country in sporting world with a top global index for our country in the field of sports.
- Many pays and perks in being a national level team player.
- Showcase us as a global icon and make us a voice of the whole world.
- Keeps our mental state in equilibrium with our social and physical health. With our body active, mind alert and place us socially on an edge high above the ground.

- Would get world class facilities and a treatment of a grand, princely state-of-the-art facilities at our doorstep.
- Gives us special access in every sector of healthcare, trade and commerce , roadways , in religious sites of temple and shrines.

Sports r a great way to help u in composing your mind with calm and freshness , in giving u a showy personality , a name and fame for u in public , special rights and reservations in every public sector , a highly regarded,well established position for your country in world and in making u a public figure and a known icon among every individual. It can pave your trenches of deep furrow , attenuate you sorrows of social and financial insecurities, give your career a smooth pathway and a future that is more enthralling and forward looking. Our lazy laden steps in sports can set our career from ground 0 to an elevated height. And we inch closer to that ground breaking career with our consistent effort and invested hours of our hardwork .

4.Socialism giving rise to communalism

Our personal development starts with the social development of people living in a progressive society. We stay in peace if there is communal harmony among all walks of people living around us. Our deeply ingrained morals, ideals, and good cultural values harmonize our personal ties with others and create an ethnic blend of different religious groups where every caste of people live with amity in fellowship, respecting every other religion, culture, and embracing it with love and purity. A lone gram can't burst the fire. We need the company of good people in our social space to add sparks of fun and laughter to our lives. But our inter-religious connects with people sharing the same nationality who belong to different castes is so agonizing and painful, giving rise to hatred, violence, animosity antagonising different religious groups. We r dividing people in the name of caste, giving birth to all forms of anarchism and extremism.

Communist groups with differing beliefs

~ We live in 1 nation but voice different opinions about different caste and creed we belong to. Whether it is Hinduism, Islam, or Christianity, all have different belief systems but share the same breed of humanity. Our love, care, and compassion for a living being is our biggest form of humanity and is way above than every social norm of casteism, cultural belief, disbelief, or bar of untouchability. Then why do we shower love on people belonging to our community more than for other caste? We favour more to those shares same nationality and belong to the same class but are more rampant and hostile toward other religious groups.

Cultural dimensions of hatred, anger for other social groups

- We live in a multi-cultural, multi-linguistic society of people socially divided in the name of religion and caste. Where every minority group becomes a victim of mental and physical abuse. Others trivialise them with hate speeches by passing bad comments, torture them in the name of religion, treat them like a slur, and sometimes force them into religious conversion. Religious supremacy of a community having a wider footprint always tries to dominate over those who r weaker, in minority and such weaker section of society becomes more weaker when their voices r not heard by the judiciary or any defining body who fight for others' justice. We are all born equal with no label of cultural mark to classify someone as socially elite or poor than why we r divided in the name of caste and creed , demarcated as rich, poor, and treated so distinctively when we are all born human with a kind living heart. We killed our empathy, kindness under the religious cloak of caste we r identified with and have no tenderness in our hearts, no compassion for religious groups of different ethno-religious roots or for someone carrying wrong mythical beliefs about their religious Identity and treat like an outcast, a cold meat.

Our discriminatory nature towards different communal groups

- We offer milk, fruits at the altar to god when outside temples, scores of poors beg for food and money, which is not an act of philanthropy.
- Easter, egg breaking ceremony is a ritual among Christians, and we never thought of how many eggs we destroy every year as part of a ritual. It's so dehumanizing that we're wasting rich mineral resources in fun activities.
- Our religious outfit of wearing a turban in Sikhs and hizab, burqa in muslims creates a very negative perception about Indian and such inhabitable style of clothing invites lewd comments and trolls by others.
- To worship your idol is your religious beliefs to the almighty but reciting prayers or azaan in loud speaker is against our moral ethics. For every Hindu muslim devotee, respecting your culture and tradition is your work and workshop but raising loud noise above a permissible limit is condemnable. And is a punishable act in countries outside India.

Such behaviour is against one's national security and does not stand true to our moral grounds of peace and stability for all. Value every culture equally and be a man of truth and divinity, a man of mankind, a strong foundation, and a base for the nation to make it thrive and prosper for the betterment of every living body. A sustainable growth and mutual development for all with the formation of a fulfilling, growable society, benefits all equally, optimally, and fairly.

Our personal growth in a progressive society

- Living in a multi-cultural society can give a mutual growth for the 2 intertwined groups and personal development for self by giving some moments of joy and ecstasy and a completeness within us of having ourself around people who can give a lively feel of their culture and traditions and interchangeably can also be a part of our culture and belief that we have for our religious soul.
- Our inter-religious construct gets more intense and deeper when we blend ourselves in their festivities, shower them with pleasantries, and things of their liking. To love them and being loved by them is the only hax for a deeper, stronger bond between the two. And when there is love, there will be a correlative bond of friendship and shared respect for each other's culture.
- To certain religious groups, we classified them as very aggressive, rogue, and slovenly with their behaviour and conduct. This stereotypical mindset of ours will fade with our deep, friendly ties with them, which will wash off all our radical, straining age-old bonds of enmity, and turn our hostile nature more friendlier and open with them.

Our unhealthy relationship with our close network of people of other ethno-religious groups could hamper personal development and could lead to the formation of a society that is more rupturous and divisible to nuclear forms. Our ethnic bonds of love and friendship go south when we don't know how to feather our own nest. And where there are pots and pans, they will clang. As people of mixed ethnicity, when living together, they squabble; their actions speak louder of themselves with their cultural sects, customs, traditions, religious identities, and dynamic inter-cultural bonds. Therefore, practice being humble, loyal to yourself and to others, value them, their cultural sects and traditions, because to earn respect, give respect 1st. Never try to lower someone down, or disrespect their ethnic beliefs or morality to god because slinging mud at others only gets you dirty.

5.Emergency Fund

Raising emergency fund is a protective shell for our financial safety and security. Problems in our life never comes with a knock . We should always be prepared for the worst to brave every odds crossing our way. Keeping money in our safe is the smartest way of dealing with every anxiety, dire strata of outpouring pain and major setbacks. We can drive through every spiralling problem by using our emergency fund as a get through to deal with major headwinds , every challenging situations and downfalls.

Forgoing happiness

~ We moving across different stages of our life, changing people, places,things but 1 thing remains unchanged - stashing money to meet our medical demands , wedding spendings and for other emergencies whose occurrences are inevitable. We earn a lot throughout our lifespan and pool all that money on our safety vaults , lockers and bank accounts to spend it optimally than on spuriously wasting it on fun activities. Save up extra on each day makes us prepared for the worst , every eventualities and unforeseen situations that we may encounter to pace up with everyday life challenges and untoward happenings . We kill our wishes, desires for those emergent situations which has no certainty of their happenings. And we never think of that our forsaken attitude are depriving our family to relish those moments of joy and happiness which is deserving to them .We raise money by limiting our longings and desires that could fulfill all our dreams and aspirations and live a life of an ordinary middle class just to give our family a long term happiness and a support of lifetime.

Rush for Money to keep up with health

-> We always feel a need for excess money to bear our everyday expenses, medical bills, and other additional spendings but money just seems to go outward to pay for our overcast bills and charges . And when our outlay reaches to the peak of our spending we look for all possible means of earning and saving to foot our expenses and that may also be by withholding all our extra rich , money - intensive fun activities which are a fleeting moment of joy but gives us a happiness of lifetime .

An illness never leaves our body that could be normal cough , cold or even a mild fever. And every 1 or the other person suffer from some bodily disorder and in need of clinical advisory and medical needs to keep them healthy and disease free. A need for a good treatment and a fear of coming under severely ill diseases made us a victim of a mental syndrome of raising more money . And we cut back extra overhead of our luxury and put aside those money into savings to lay out needed amount for our treatment and cure.

Our sadistic nature to poors

~ We take medical insurance , loans from bank when any harmful disease traps us and we used up all our savings for a good treatment .This shows a very agnostic side of us towards those who raise their family by our money given as tip , donations , taxes or as incurred charges on goods. And we not only relinquish our happiness but also of those who rely on our endowment or pay for their goods and services. Can't we show a little kindness and generosity towards those who rest on our shoulder for their share of love and happiness and for those whose smile comes from us . The real happiness lies in keeping others happy and when they smile we smile back.

Needfulness of emergency fund

~ There are certain events and religious procession that can't be left alone and builds memories of lifetime. Some large party events or wedding nights or some of our momentous occasion are cost heavy well not an emergency but such moments are quick snapshots made in our eyes that are not erasable .And need lots of spending that can only be compensated through our savings or the money we kept aside for emergencies.

~ There is some fixed cash overflow in our education , housing , food and clothings but in addition to that money also goes in some of other classic activities including transport , health and fitness , some personal expenses after cutting off every non-essential fun and show biz . How money slipped off on these variables can't go unnoticed. Now without having a buffer of surplus money we can't afford our basic necessity . Taking care of other precautionary medical need is a far-off thing.

How to limit expenses

~ our habit of expenditure on things that are a killer to our body like overconsumption of smoke and drinks is a red flag for our health and also for our pocket needs to be limited .This will add up to our savings and can be use in some future days of emergencies.

~ We should give up our habit of outsourcing on things that are vital for our body making. We buy food from outside , when we don't feel like cooking for self , spent on things that can be done by self and try to automate our work either by entrusting our duties to someone else or through smart built-in machineries..By reducing our rest hours for bodily comfort we can actually save a lot per day by working for self than employing others to work for us

Adding up daily to our basic income can greatly helps us in meeting those demands that comes so sudden and requires urgent fund on its service. Our health and body is the only treasure hunt for battling every body ailments that could be a little body aching or a severe disease . Hence, must stay healthy and positive. Investing into your body will give you a long term return .But spending on body isn't just our physical health but also mental . Suppressing your desires by putting money into emergency and keeping all your fun, amusement on a standstill can languish your mental health and put you in a state of limbo. Results in turning your life shorter . Looking to this we should indulge in every fun activity for mental build up , refreshing memory , stress busting. Therefore, saving money to cater to your emergency needs are important but little spending on fun and entertainment induce mental calm and repose our body in stillness also substantially needed for a conducive growth .

6.A Warming Home

Our home is our garden, a divine heaven, a rest- piece for our comfort and relaxation. Our only shelter for restive hours of peace and mental calm. There is no place on earth which can give us a homely touch other than our guarding residence. We are much fortunate by having a roof above our head and not resting on our EMIs for a monthly comfort on a leased apartment .Having a home is our necessity,a personal belonging of ours for a status and a class. We build a house and make it a sweet home with our cultural values and people to people ties. And a house is a barren land for broken homes , distorted relationship, a dwelling for insects and bugs without any existence of a happy loving family.

Home a maker of love

- A happy family makes a happy home and a happy home binds us in a relationship with love and purity. It is our survival and without it a life is a complete mess. A sweet home creates new bonds of love and deeper ties ,a happy united family, a good mashup of healthy relationship and a completeness of one's self with people they love by their side. A home gives us a life of an ecstasy, divine pleasure and self-assurance of living with materialistic things and worldly desires.

Home and its tidings for us -

* Our home is a reflection of our personal wealth , social status , our image among connections of our friends, colleagues and relatives. A passerby gets an impression of our affluence of wealth and treasury with an appealing front facing of our home ,its stature and building material.

* Our living place describe our mentality and our attitude with others. Living in an old , shanty house provokes negativity and depicts how poor , shabby we are with our behaviour towards others. When our space is rich ,clean , spacious we welcome others with open heart .

* Our home is our protective shield against external agents of seasonal winds , bad climate and also a protective charm from ill vices of robberies, rapes , external attacks by acting as a hardwired mesh of steel ,iron forming close knitted barracks to guard us.

* Home is our collateral and an ultimate support for wealth in times of crisis when we are under some financial deficit , mounting arrears of huge debt and overdue EMIs . Our precious home is our supreme wealth saved for a rainy day when we are in distress of unpaid bills , supply of medical emergencies due to undertreatment of our close ones.

A permanent housing is a keeper of safety and security from unwanted miseries , any unexpected failure or mishap , a restoring peace that generate positive energy , build strong and healthy relationships and a good companionship of happy , caring people to vibe with.

Abandonment of family property

-> Home is a generational wealth having memories of our forefathers , a long series of custom and convention that our ancestors created and a legacy for our descendants to carry it along. Our love and respect for our elders and their build up memories with our curated home made it hard for us to detach , remain separated from the house we have shared with our long lived generation of people of our lineage. And our leanings for our parental home becomes more profound with time much harder for us to abandon it. And it feels like a boulder to our heart when our kids , grandkids sell out our parental property for a greed of money .

A house keeps a family united if we live with trust and harmony and divide us when our people become an eyesore to us . Family disputes and partition are now a common housing problem in every family ending in a state of anarchism and lawlessness. Making settlement in court is the only arbitration , a last straw for such property disputes and personal grievances.

Life without Home

-> Think of living in a temporary rented apartment with piles of unpaid housing bills siding 1 after the other and your money going half in clearing off debts of your non-payment. Under such circumstances you can't think of a lasting peace. and fuller joy when you are battling with everyday expenses and life of commons spending more than what you earn. And having a home gives you all joy and inner peace , free from monthly burden of accumulated bills , dues clearance and add a lot more savings to your monthly budget.

-> Without a home life is like a shredded piece of paper , living in shambles of trash. Imagine yourself sitting on side of a road poorly, with no or limited access to cooking essentials for survival .And you lean on others for your lively , waive to them for food and money to satisfy your hunger . Which is a life of a homeless man living by himself independently but alone in solitude disconnected from society , good peoples in a forlorn state with no-one to take your care and give your life a meaning for survival. If there is no home you are living in isolation away from all social , cultural norms to give you a direction for a purposeful life .

A home sets our boundaries demarcate us from those living aimlessly wandering here and there . It's our comfort, a resting peace from our workday tussle and side hustle. It gives us a name , a social presence and an earned image in a society. Having a home frees up our financial distress , strengthen our personal relationship with friends, family and close ones , creates new bonds and deepened interpersonal ties by maximizing our footprint among people in our close network. It's our center piece of attraction , a golden beauty of our heart that laid a framework for building deeper ties , healthy relationships and a social iconic image among people sharing a regional space.

7. Digital Media Insignia

- Digital and print media r a vital source in our daily life to keep us updated with the things happening around, in widening our knowledge base in different areas of filming world , science and research. We see a transforming change in our way of living, both physical and mental by following up and relating ourself with big filming stars, social media influencers and tech geeks who work to give us a good thrilling experience in field of science, education and entertainment. Today, we have different streaming platforms and OTTs flooded with wide range of content for our fun and entertainment. And when we have varied choices for our fun watch we r in a state of dismissal with our indecision to choose what content to watch and what not. And owing to which it has become a deciding factor for us to pick relevant content based on our needs.

Their adoring and depreciative effect

- Today we r so connected with the world through internet and a life without it is limited to a finite space in a trance like state with no inferences of things happening around. Now in a world of internet with plethora of open streams of learning, education and fun why life has turned so cumbersome and delusional .

* Different source of our entertainment has made us so addicted to watching screen that we r being a cynic to our real friends and colleagues by creating a court room drama with our indulgence in their personal life creating mistrust , and vague incisive remarks to dent someone's life .

* By listening to warring news of violence and killings we become very sensitive and thoughtful for our own relations and sometimes question honesty and sincerity of our own people ,put them into distraught and dissonance and sometimes enters into collapse at the point of breakage for our relationship.

* Too much screen time risking our health making us mentally weak and inactive , weakening our thinking power adding up mental clutter for brain with poor thoughts , obscenity , paranormal actions and thoughts , and creates distraction for us in focussing into things that r much more important for us for a considerable growth in our career and future .

* We watch films ,reels only for a mental relaxation from stress and exhaustion but giving our maximum time for our fun and entertainment deviate us from our actual goal which is our career for a better future .The time which we can utilise in doing something productive is wasted in occupying self in doing something that's a mere fun activity with no meaningful outcome at the end of it.

* What we see or listen in broadcasting deemed as true and this way sometimes we become a victim of false narrative which is portrayed to us and we tend to believe in those false propaganda, rumours . Watching and listening to every online sources and untrusted platforms could spread false information to us .Appearance can be deceiving sometimes Hence, too much reliance on digital sources that r not censored could lead to falsifying , misleading information spreading to us.

* The content telecasted to us through digital media has no age limiting bar set over the video , graphics ,images we see online and it drastically spoil kids' habit, thoughts and more to their mental health .And such digital content breaking all norms and parameters defined within our cultural boundaries.Kids r getting very notorious, brazenly uncivilized, and more disrespectful to their own culture by watching such content full of profanity , destroying our cultural dimensions and human values.

Looking to the shortcomings we r deeply shadowed with , will that be a crowning stroke for us to cut ourselves completely from digital/printing press which r a source of enriching knowledge ,a fun media and for a lot of insightful news to keep us connected with world.

Some fun loving, beautiful moments we get from a screencast r worth to be seen -

* TV and digital media is not just for our fun and entertainment .we get to learn a lot from it .We learn how to communicate well by listening to big tv stars , some moral ethics , motivation to succeed in our career, an inspiration to do something good and productive and a lot more from our way of living to lead a happy, contending life.

* These digital, social media has made us so connected to world that by sitting at a place we can walk through the entire world to see what's happening elsewhere.We globetrotte the entire world and know how grim is the situation in and around us . A news media gives us a true reflection of things in our vicinity and a self realisation of how world is changing and evolving to look deep into the sky , see through oceans and river, and many other incredible exploration that news and print media made us to see through.

* TV and a virtual , digital world is not only a great source for our fun and thriller but a stress reliever from our days of exhaustion and mental concussion , a therapy for stress busting ,an unlimited source for our entertainment , and fun ride to sail through the glooms of our work life imbalance and sad, miserable occurrences of our day to day life.

Conclusion

- A world of media and entertainment industry is the only source to keep us motivated , infused with knowledge and wisdom and give a spark to our life by adding specks of fun and comedy for a thrilling , breadth taking experience. Though it has serious disturbing nuances for our health , growth and development in work, to someone's personal self in a relationship and certain other dehumanizing behaviour a digital media poses for us. But other foresighted , lucrative use of digital media and news outlets shouldn't be subsided. And "One good thing outweighs a hundred illnesses". Keeping that in mind effective use of social media and other digital platforms vitalise its significance and needed benefits we get when we feel lighten with crawling thoughts ,work stress , splitting headache. Fun, thrilling moments we get by including some filming or graphics media , talk shows or other comedy stuff accentuate their importance in our daily life .Hence, their use cannot be simply cut off from our life looking to all the fun and relishing moments of joy 1 get in its presence .

8.Delish Food,a choice or an Obligation

Food is fuel for making our body highly active and functional. It is the only requirement for our enrichment and growth. and living without it is living without our only existence.We can survive without food for upto 3 weeks, without water for 3 days and without air for not more than 3 minutes. We can't sustain life on earth without food,air,water as these r the only necessity for our survival.We take a heavy 2 course meal and a complete diet for our fitness.But can this food give us all the required nutrients that our body needs.

Food and its yielded Energy

- Today's food is not that highly efficacious due to certain impurities of harmful contaminants ,high level of adulteration , sub-standard,degraded quality of added substance making it less effective to body and only a portion of such food actually works in our making. Such food may or may not give the right amount of nutrients, protein require for our body

We say excess of anything is bad and is overly or partly true with the body signs of plump looking face , bear belly , loose muscles and a saggy-sloppy body. Our diet should be on par with the body's need .Too much of eating can cause organ failure , body sickening , accumulation of excess fat , gas trouble, nauseatic feel due to irregular eating habits and many more. Craving for eating can kill our hunger but also make our body susceptible to acute diseases. Fasting with eating add an interstitial time for our body machinery to rest from entering into relapse. Our habit of overeating is a home to illness . Having proper meal and a regular cycle of our food chain can give us a good health recovery and reversal from old-age to novelty.

Now as we r moving towards automation with advance machinery there excess use r making us more indolent and lazy and adding to the quality of food we r having today making our end stage more closer. Food which is full of artificial agents , substance that r lab grown , scientifically prepared , injected with harmful chemicals and drugs r knowingly or unknowingly became a part of our daily consumption.Eating such obdurate quality of food disturbing our biological cycle which is aversive to a healthier body growth .

What food depicts about our nature and belongings

- How voluminous our diet is corresponds to the same body type. A skinny body in a low carb diet , a big fat body always on a rich , heavy diet of deep-fried food,high sugar with refined carbs .And a fit body on lean protein adapts itself in every tough circumstances in all adversities and they r more likely of an enduring , adjusting nature. And we behave the same way the way we look. A pudgy ,fatty body will look for more space not in the heart but more on a living place.They r less corroborative to others, more possessive about their personal space , food and can't stabilise themselves in an environment which is a bit tough ,rigid to maintain a calm composure. Getting mood swings , our indignation on small things , feeling burnt out r some modern age problem that is prevailing in every household and becoming a burning issue that why young generation r getting so intolerant , short tempered by nature.

Street food or Dining at a restaurant

- Eating out or ordering from outside is just like having a low hanging fruit when we don't want to make extra effort going into the kitchen and cook for self. And when we go on a dine out we typically eat something that is different from our regular meal . Hoping it's just for a mere taste of tongue but a sheer waste for body so we eat them very often by fits and starts erratically when we want a spine-chilling experience for ourselves of eating in public , spent some fun blasting moment with family, friends , go on a long haul and enjoy every cuisines , best street food like a gourmet.

Sometimes eating in public in a high , classy restaurant or dine out is just an eye wash for others ,a false pretense for gathering fame or to earn a social goodwill, image in your close circle of friends and relatives when we post online or share in our timeline our special moments about our public activities , social events, religious fest .But also to make ourself feel special by doing some extraordinary things to please ourselves.

Is is seen that we spent more money elsewhere than in fulfilling our body needs. We need a healthy 2 time meal to makeup for the lost hunger and mal-nourishment. And filling that hunger by ordering pre-packaged , ready-made food items at double the cost is hazardous to our health . Giving extra money in exchange of food is your service to them but getting such low quality, perished, refrigerated items in return is no kindness.And that's a death trap for a growing, healthy body.

Can street food substitute our rich , ritzy fooding style ?

U can buy freshly cooked,hot meal from a local street shop or a nearby food stall at nearly half the price to that of a big restaurant .But living in a world of gleamer and glam to single out yourself from the crowd your public vision matters a lot even if u r not a shiny star. When u go to a public place u see lots many new faces but someone with good,catchy personality grabs everyone's attention and every 1 of us wants to show themselves unique to others than why don't you because that distinctive, unique figure among crowds of people to catch there eyes on u .

9. Travel and Transport

Our life has become a lot more simpler with different modes of travel and transport for our ease and peace.The rate of privately owned vehicles have exponentially increased from past decade . And automobile sector is booming with the rapid growth in the vehicle industry. Now a seamless and ease off means of traveling has streamlined our commute and made it a lot more convenient for daily travellers and frequent visitors. Our on and off visit to a place seeks for a reliable and time saving source of travel that could speedfast our work with a smooth , reassuring transit experience.Our interminable litany of long cruise r channelised through interconnected networks of fast paced driving vehicles which r a gateway to our miles of processed , fulfilling journey.

Our varied network of transport from land to air and water r adding a stockpile of vehicles ranging from a gas guzzling banger to a high speed supersonic missiles..These pack of vehicles r revolutionizing our transport industry and in a time from now we would see a huge flux in the automobile sector.but also how these heavy mob of vehicles choking out our highways and expressway and how they r smothering the climate and creating ecological imbalance with the comfort of our own.

Our Dripping vehicles and we

- Our showy vehicle has become a class for us and a worthy item for our keepsake to win thousands of accolade and warm gesture on its glaze and craze.And our spending on its luxury is way more bigger and banger than what is needed for a physical relaxation and a mental peace.Our fondness to spend on luxury brands does not just see our comfort in traveling but our balance of money and a social status.And we are so whimsical , headstrong with our habit of spending on branded,top tier quality material for our show-off that money seems like an investment on our extra classy looking vehicle than an overspending.And we r going much on an edge with our spending that is encroaching our roads more than the showrooms and on a broader scale showing very maniacal and egoistic mindset in a public view and creating lots many abnormalities and daunting challenge for others and for nature.

Some major critical key issues and overconcerning factors that needs preemptive measures -

* We buy vehicles to cover our journey and reach to our destination in a lesser time .But the race is not on overspeeding but on comparing us with having the most coolest brand for maintaining a social goodwill among others that has populated our roads with vehicles competing with one another in terms of brands and class. But conversely we found ourselves packed up on road stranded with other global brands in a traffic congestion.

* We see many poors begging for money in traffic signal but sitting in our expensive wheel we never show a bit of kindness for them to extend our hand for help with money.This reflects very cheap , cold , inconsiderate side of ours who has no soft corner for others who r financially below us and more on it we treat them like swarms of ant trodden underfoot by elephant .

* Using our personal vehicle for our comfort rather than public transport that could save up fuel and keeping in mind environment concern could be a best mode of traveling for a sustainable growth. And Use of our own vehicle for even a shorter range is creating extra congestion on road, increasing chances of accidents and uneven irregularities of damages to public property , to one's self and more to nature with rise of pollutants , heavy emission and discharge of petrochemical waste in air.

* The need and restive peace of owning a vehicle r putting our roadways workers and cab driver's job and a source of their earning at stake .Our comfort of safe and restful driving r taking away their resting peace of earning for their livelihood.And due to their poor economic conditions they r becoming a burden for the government for their financial needs and much dependent on government welfare schemes and subsidies.And on a broader way if we see the biggest issue behind poor GDP and slump in economy is the high poverty rate and the population.

So, , Even if we can't contribute to country's economic growth by being a responsible tax payer we can still be a backbone of our country by supporting poors to earn their daily minimum wage by use of public transport more on a regular basis that would help in -

- lowering down excess carbon footprint in the air ,
- save fuel wastage,
- Lower land encroachment on public places with low traffic congestion
- More pay creation for poor cab drivers and daily wage workers
- We can rightly utilise our money by helping people who r economically weaker who rely on us for money,food and access to their basic amenities.
- We can make a ecological balance by saving species who r endangered or at the cusp of becoming extinct by low gas emission and by controlling deafening sound of honking horn , motor engine vibrations , of every skid , squish that could give splitting headache to them including us.

10.Power of Money

Money is most powerful resource for a life of worldliness , ecstasy and joy of fulfillment. Everything on earth has an associated cost which is the money in liquidity. It runs and go from 1 hand to another and speaks its worth in the object invested on it. It can buy anything from an inanimate object to a living human being and its value is a priceless dime which can only be earn with one's hardwork. It's transactional goes from person to person and decoupled itself from all form of human relations .

Our toppling relationship with Money

- Our family, friends, relatives and others with whom we meet and greet to get along binds us together and forms a basis of our existence. These relationships laid the foundation of trust and respect and we value it. But sometimes these relationships gets sour with the power of money. Our un-requested love and huge respect, care for our loved ones gets deepen with our interpersonal ties and age old relationship and this bond of unsolicited love and undue care turns sweet-bitter with or without an economic survival of money.

Deep pockets with loads of money shows one's affluence and wealth to harbour good ties , old/new bonds of friendship in a relationship but also keeps our close, endearing people farther from us. It blindsided us , keeps us loaded with wealth but hollow from within due to afflicted , broken hearts of our loved ones who were with us in standby in times of days when they were our only asset , not the pride of money with a mirror of fake reality .

A man with less money still complete in itself with fewer but stronger bonds of pure and healthy relationships and don't live in a cloak room of money, to envelope them in a world of vivacious might of rolling money, in a showbiz of fake reality but in actuality of true people.

What money can do

- It can buy a house but not home , a bed but not sleep , degree but not true knowledge or even people for your fun, entertainment but not true friends to be with you in your bad time. Our ideals , knowledge, wisdom r the things we acquired from our hardwork and effort and there is no authority of elite socialism or power of money to deprive us from our basic right to education or humanity .

we say money is everything .No money no food but I feel it's not money it's the people and their kindness towards others which sympathize them when they see others living miserably in need of money . And their conscience, their instinct provokes them to be a shining armour for others. But it's not just one's kind attitude that acts as an inducement for others seeking help it's also a greed and an egoistic and a self absorbed feeling for themselves to spend on things for their own good that alluded to giving a fiscal support to others in an indirect way. Money precedes every other form of human values whether it be love, friendship, kindness, care or pity for someone.

Denomination of money

A money has its many forms. When we r born money is given in

- * hospitals as charges
- * In religious occassion as offerings
- * in school as fees
- * in transport as fare
- * in offices as salary
- * In relief camps as donations
- * In divorce as alimony
- * To poor as alms
- * For extra pays and perk as bonus
- * Money won in a fair as lottery
- * In community welfare as pittance
- * In shoppings as discount
- * In buisness as revenue or profit
- * Money in corruption as bribe
- * Money to mafia as ransom
- * Money given for a service as subscription
- * Money paid to a valet as tip
- * Money in mortgage as pawn or collateral
- * Money in an auction is bidding
- * Money given in a brokerage as commission

Ever imagined how we will trade for goods if there is no money involved.

Life without money

- The value of goods and services r quantify by the amount of money we pay in exchange of that.As a human being our basic necessity is food , clothes and shelter but we need many other resources for our survival and existence to live our life freely .And we synthesized of creating a polished , plush ,gilded life for us by utilising enough of these resources but can we actually perceive a life full of princely, luxurious things without money ?

There was a time when u can buy goods in exchange of goods called barter system but it can't be practiced today to buy every resource of your wishlist and barter it with your usable items. Having some physical or digital money is the only plausible source for all your desirable longings. U can buy anything of your wants but not without money. It's the supreme wealth and we all bow down to it .

The possession of wealth can turn all our wishful thinking into an aspirational reality , can transform shortcomings into assets ,flaws into virtues and weakness into strength. One can fulfill all their worldly desires and can be a life changer for those who r cash strapped , living poorly in an impoverished state and deprived of their basic needs of food,cloth,shelter. Our money can bring a smile to someone's face , a 2 time happy meal for hungry , a healing remedy for infirm , and a back support for elderly. Therefore , be wise in your dealings . your money is your strength , your only key to your health, wealth, prosperity , a silver icon for family, a hope for poors , and our service to our nation for its growth and economic productivity.

11.Digital Technology

All emerging technologies today have greatly influenced us to make our life a lot more simpler and divergent .The age of digital technology brought a lot of adaptation in our living standards from smart devices to AI and engineering.From stone age to an era of modernization with all sorts of equipments and large machinery is a renaissance in technology and a big experience for us to learn from this technological journey. Now we have all things of our comfort in our usable limit that have expedited our life and made it more fast paced. These smart devices around us has made us digitally native to their use and more of a geeky technophile who has made technology their only plausible source of enriching joy and fulfillment. And for us living without them is living without our only existence because these smart devices made us realise who we r and how to connect with the world.

Digital world and the Revolutionary change -

Technology is evolving at a faster pace and bringing in innumerable changes in our life and surroundings. The advancement of science, mechanics and AI has transformed ourselves from a common man to an extraordinary living being. We never imagined that while sitting at a place away from home we could operate our smart electrical appliances or to remotely handle our smart devices through a virtual setup or to even look into the sky deep within through satellites to examine rotation and revolution of every celestial bodies in space. And the ascription of these evolving, emerging digital tech goes to our great scientist, researchers and technocrats.

But are we going too far with these tech advancement and automation that we are endangering ourselves by risking our health and body with excessive use of these digital gadgets for some work simplicity, quicker response and bodily comfort.

Smart devices and its side effects -

We say too much of anything is bad. Taking overdose of food can screw up your physical health, excess of running, walking could cause body cramps. In the same way too much dependence on these digital tech and smart devices can make us mentally inactive and physically indisposed. We are getting used to them for even a meaner job which is destroying our cognitive ability, our mental power and eating us up internally. Their addiction is giving us mental stroke, acting as a trauma for our brain health, putting us in a vegetative state when your brain can't act your way, adding up to causing a brain fog, experiencing mental health slump resulting in weakening memory.

Our daily screen time taking most of our due time in trivialising ourselves by watching reels, shorts in our phone. And stick to our smart phones day in day out has become a customary habits that can't be given away so easily. High screen time with low or no physical activities adds to high risk factor for body ailments, mental collapse, ageing and other skin problems.

Our digital assets and Personality factor -

No doubt advanced technologies and digital devices greatly help in easing off our life by doing our work 10 times faster than doing it manually on our own. And also our personality building and digital tech have close tie-in with each other and so with health. Occupying self with smart devices helps in spiralling up our personality graph in varied ways -

- They lift up our financial status and make others think of us as some rich, wealthy brats of socially high upper class.
- We sound more well educated, highly professional and digitally literate by keeping these smart digital assets in our social presence.
- We can flaunt them to others and create a good impression of ourselves. And also we can influence others in having a good, ultra rich lifestyle as ours.
- We can keep ourselves updated with the current market trend by keeping ourselves paced up with the latest technology.

- Just along with putting ourselves upgraded with the latest tech we can also induce other's into matching up with our modern , loaded, balance sheet of money .

Now , since these tech devices pose various health concern for our body, we should keep them with us for a public vision but shouldn't be using it at all time. They enhance our personality in 1 way and r a getaway to a well-heeled , highborn lifestyle and on the run putting ourselves in a tight corner with our body and mind in distress.

So, good to brandish them like an all show but no go as a grandstand of your showy personality but by ghosting yourself to its excessive use because u can cake up your personality by being more flashy with your digital assets but in the same hand your health and curvaceous figure is the real flex to your donning personality for a rizz with no frizzz.

12. Effective Communication

A person's identity is reflected in their behaviour, personality, and social awareness. It is often said, "Never judge a book by its cover." Therefore, to work effectively with a team, it is essential to truly acquaint yourself with its members and build familiarity beyond surface-level interactions. Merely knowing one another as strangers is never sufficient. Spending time together allows you to understand individual traits, social conduct, and the way people express and present themselves in front of others.

No matter how much one earns, success remains incomplete without the ability to convey values and knowledge effectively. Professional excellence becomes meaningful only when supported by strong work ethics and personal branding. No business can thrive without trust, and once earned, that trust becomes a foundation of long-term relationships. It takes years to build a strong professional reputation, yet only a moment to damage it.

The value of a product or service does not lie solely in the raw materials or resources invested, but in how effectively it is positioned and perceived by consumers. Enhancing quality and relevance requires strong communication skills that make interactions more engaging, social, and resourceful. Words serve as powerful tools that shape actions, influence opinions, and earn goodwill, ultimately making our efforts count.

Hence, delivering impactful work output demands effective communication to sustain the trust, credibility, and confidence that users place in a brand.

Some pin-points one has to gear up with for a compelling and incisive communication -

- Be simplistic but thoughtful -> Your ideas and notions must have a clear view that could drive your conversation towards a base point. Never have conflicted views that sounds more obscure unworthy to buy your clients proposal on your ideas.

- Have clear and concise ideation -> Figuratively one has to be clear with the statistics and numbers when you want to present your facts engrained to give an exact outline of the work with validated numbers and figure. Brevity in your spoken words makes it easy to put forth your message for a more responsive outcome from the listener when sentences are captioned with 1 liner statement with usable words and phrases.

- Exemplify your ideas -> Always speak in a manner that make your words sound more relatable and in-context to the main topic. Giving derivatives and fact supporting analogies can help in developing a good understanding of the base topic .

- Avoid any hype or exaggeration -> Your conversation should not sound much hyperbolic and must exhibit realism and genuinity . Speaking too high of something can also undermine users trust on you .

- Be mindful of hate speeches -> Refrain from using words which are more inciting and outrageous. Use of any illicit words which are more abusive and can lead to disharmony can account for lawlessness and anarchism .Hence, must be avoided.

- No superfluous words -> Speaking long sentences for an impactful conversation can actually end up in adding redundancy and makes your words sound more verbose . Always use words which make your conversation looks natural with no detonating, extraneous words that have a resounding tone of superiority but try adding up values with simple , neutral and un-provoked words.

- Degree of comparison -> there shouldn't be any superlative comparison with other brands because putting yourself first to others could rank u down in keeping a good profile of your work in terms of your behaviour, right attitude and your relationship with other global brands even if professionally u r at the edge of your career .

- Your tonal voice or intonation -> Your tone of voice and your accent add a great impression of how well u articulate yourself and others can makeup a different opinion of your work if your postulates r countering u and others objectifying u because what u spoke is antiphrasis to what u suppose to say and that euphemism can be counter-productive to what u actually want your conversation to drive u through . How you admit your clients to buy your proposal entirely depends on your voice, your pitch and how rightly u enunciate your words to others.

• Have a precise ball-mark figure -> precision with which u present your facts has to be accurate . All data points and statistical data gives a curve of your regression and progression at every juncture in the workflow and a predictive analysis of your future roadmap.

• Have a clear thesis or reasoning -> Your idea, thoughts and viewpoint must be strong and transparent. Any differing opinions of your work r subjected to mild disapproval from the client side and any cognitive dissonance can rise up to adding negative feedback of your clients and partner group on your portfolio. And it reflects a very dark and obtuse side of your work when your stated facts r not racking up to the functional norms of your work and incapable of making coherence with your partner and staffs.

13. Health and Fitness

Our body is our biggest asset and much like an engine of a car to make us run and function .And our body machinery too corroded like batteries of car which loses its lubricant with insufficient supply of fuel and mobility of its hardware with time. We say the rest is to rust . Conversely it means that the cause of our illness and infertility is the taste of our tongue and the bodily pleasure. The kinship of our taste buds and stomach has a direct adverse effect on our inner-self , our internal organ which actually cost us dearly with each of our passing days of rest , unrest. And a frailer body is analogous to a wilted plant which is not manured and nurtured .U need to water your plants to bear its fruits .Body too needs same amount of nourishment and due care for a whale of time and a life of worldly pleasures.

You subjugate yourself against your body when an illness traps u. And heal for that infirm body lies within itself which is your toned body, chiseled muscles and pompous figure. Our life race with our body is a continuous, never ending process and run for that race is un-abetted , instinctive and harmonal and our body is the only utility for a healthy, living self. A tensile strength of our body lies in our physical mobility , agility and how resilient our body is to external peripherals of mass and weight and springs of motion. Sustain in an unfavourable environment is the strength of our body and our body is the only torch-bearer to make this attainable for us to have a body as strong as rock and unbreakable as a steel beam holding up a skyscraper.

Doctor is our next god but nobody ever wishes to visit that God but it's our inservility of our body with self that we make ourselves a home of acute ailments and sickness and rest all our hopes to them for our survival and existence. We r our biggest enemy who can't even realise that when our bed of roses becomes a thorn for our body and we embrace it like an inalienable part of us . Reduced work hours and a balanced share of yogic activities and physical excercises help keeps debility aloof and a doctor many miles away .

If u sow a bitter gourd than u can't expect it to be sweet. A creature can't change its spot even if it's provoked thousand times.A snake never stops dunking , a dog for barking or a monkey to gallop . Now when animals can work for their feed than why can't we. So,we must do all those work and activities for which our body is designed rather just sitting and eating effortlessly.p

Here are some tips and tricks for a smooth body functioning and a healthy mind that every individual must practice in their daily lives on need basis -

- * Start your day with little warm-ups and simple ,easy breathable exercises.
- * Do some aerobics or extra stretching and fitness exercise to increase oxidation rate and breath-in fresh air.
- * Do minutes of running exercises like - jogging , jumping jacks , skipping , or simple leaps and jumps.
- * Do back press ,knee bent , squats , sit-ups and some of clamping exercises.
- * Regular walks help maintain proper blood flow .These walks and step count r tailor made and 1 could plan and optimise them as per their body needs and requirements.Walking down on treadmill helps in clear fine-tuning ones steps , speed or in estimating your state of being.
- * Introduce different yoga postures in your morning exercise for body stretching and elasticity.
- * For your mental health and wellness , meditating for couple of minutes daily helps ease out your brain from stress and mental exhaustion and promote sharpen memory and improved nervous system.
- * Aerial yoga , invert your body top to bottom r some of the poses for proper blood circulation to the body , reduce anxiety and mental stress , Cardiovascular Health , improved digestion and relaxation in muscle cramps.

Our physical strength is our body and must be carved and make in shape .We say that a healthy mind lies in a healthy body . If your body is strong your mind would remain active and functional . Your body don't necessarily need a wax like structure which is amorphous only when it melts . A body should be rigid from outside and like a melting cubes of ice from within. A torpid , morbid person spews fire from words that r hollow brags not tough rags and strikes none. And a bolt of lightening jolts a body like a stormy , thunder waves which has no shock absorber when fall on an object. A strong body is that thunderbolt of lightening.

So, always keep exercising and be a mightier knight to be an armour for others , a kingpin for needy and a shield for your loved ones.

14.Watch the Time

Time is the most precious resource whose value is much more worthy than the money we earn. Anything lost can be recovered, a lost path can be retraced but not time. Time is a brooke, a stream of river which once flowed lost forever. New waves recreates and destroy and form a cycle of repeatable task but 1 stream of water may fuse with the other and form a goblet of water and ends itself in the process. Time too has same presence in our life and we should value it before every minute of its passing. What has happened in the past is our retrospection and cannot be changed but moving with time is our present for a better future. The nostalgia of our past happenings can be rosy, cozy or even blowsy but there is no such time machine to go behind the time and change your unpolished days of past.

Earth moves with time to cause day, night, months, year. It teaches us our real worth. What we were yesterday, what we are today and what we wanted to be is the time ticking clock behind. Every minute of our time moves with a biological clock of our body. Our body has an end stage of survival but not the time. It is an apocalypse for people with put off, and let go mindset and a life changer for those who moves with the time. Crops grow with season, winds flow with weather, and similarly our birth and death is a reversible process but time is an infinite plane of seconds and with no capsize for it to let up.

How to keep track of time

-> We say that "slow and steady wins the race". So, move with time don't make time go with you because time waits for none. Learn to be a good time manager. Be a planner of your time and roster it as per your work input. Have a systemised work plan to put your chain of thoughts into action. Govern the clock, not be governed by it. Be the pilot of your time. Don't let time drive you. Your work needs a time tracker to change your aspirations into reality. Model it, frame it as your center piece and tailor it for your own good. Be a composure of your own time ,walk past it and be a achiever of your own dreams.

Some over the edge practices to sail yourself through time to boom with your doom -

- ~ Set a reminder of your time to trigger you to work for action.
- ~ Slot your list of to-do work with time and act on it in stipulated time order.
- ~ Keep an alert listener close to your self that can refractor your mind into work.

Use your time wisely and make it more yielding and promising for an upward inflection on your success trail. Be a sanative healer of your time and customise your calendar for an another day of upheavals of good and bad. A good time can give you a life of flourishing joy and fulfillment ,days of laughter and exuberance .So,invest in yourself and manipulate your time for your good.Go above the bar of impassable barries of your inability, and re-model it for a new tomorrow which is full of unealistic expectations ,unparalleled boundaries of success at the top of the ladder of your career , your venture and above all your perils of conquest and collapse .

15.Dress Sense

Clothes r our need , necessity,a choice and a feeling of being looked good.We wear what appeals to us . We designed our wearables as per our body type ,how sleek ,sedan or fleshy we r. Clothes can be gender specific or gender neutral but serves the only purpose to keep us bodily active and socially present . They acts like a windshield , a protective layer to protect us from external agents of sun , air, dust , water and winter.

The type of clothes we wear speaks a lot for us in terms of our cultural values, ethnicity,our social status or class but tells nothing about our behaviour, mental adaptability or our social status in a society. What we wear and how we dress differentiate us from others.A good fashion sense gives a symbolic representation of our identity and also of our character as an individual. If we dress properly it builds our confidence and made us into believing as someone who has broken all charm of social enigma by representing ourself distinctive and more self-assured with our clean-cut salient look.

Current trend and vogue culture -

Can u think what drives us crazy to buy more when u have all set of clothings to satisfy your need, it's our fashion sense and the era of modernization where we want to look more classy, immaculate and high profile. We choose luxury over necessity, go for a swanky , flashy look than our own comfort. Wearing in-breathable clothes tight to your skin , clothes that abashedly expose your body or clothes which r much discomforting to body r becoming a flex these days when your outer appearance and personality exceeds all your bodily pleasure and comfort. A desire to look way better than others and to be a discriminating icon among others by dressing as 1 of a kind nowhere to be found r drifting us towards adopting a fashion sense that is much prevalent and reputable in public. And we r blowing money like water for such glitz and glamour , name and fame , and a sterling image in the society.

Some darksides of our off-beat , admirable dress sense -

Our unconventional style of dressing and weird outlook towards what to wear on creates a wrong picture in the minds of youth in making them to follow their fashion divas' obdurate fashion sense. They tend to robe in same style of clothings considering it as 1 of a delectable, star like personable look but in actual they r dragging themselves more towards profanity and absurdity with their bold outfit. Our sheer, over revealing clothing greatly impacts kids mentally and they create very negative perception of us as of some outlandish,vulgarian person . Our cultural,our ethnicity slowly becoming extinct because of our crepe , crop clothing style and is ripping our cultural values with the adoption of western , inconvenient , foppish outfit. Not just that making self to look more unslovenly rich , attractive harms our self respect in the society when we become a close victim of crimes like - rape, molestation and sexual abuse .When someone pass lewd comments on us or harass us publicly for sexual favour there is no law or authority who can stand by us as it's us who is to blame for such misconduct because of our bizzare fashion sense . And we don't even realise that to look fancy ,to flaunt ourself we r burning a hole in our own pocket , dipping into our own savings , using our stockpile of money into extravaganza which could be utilised into something much more useful and endowing.

Whether you are black or white a dress will only give u an external beauty it cannot justify your character. Your inner strength lies in your heart .If u help a person in need , u will get many helping hands in return.With your fancy , dazzling outfit u may get many eyes gazing at u but all helping hands to them who has a heart of gold and always ready to ride or die for you.

Every profession has a distinctive identity which is differentiated with their uniform Resources and Information.,a dress plays a very important role in giving you that unique identity. A doctor,a lawyer or an army officer all r our front warriors with a uniform which uniquely identifies them and we honour their prestigious roles and service to the nation. And bestow them and their uniform with great love and respect that we have for our national flag.

A cloth with a mumsy look or an overly flashy outfit gives u an external presence of being look good or normal and is just our state of mind. A cloth can define a heroic personality but can't necessarily say whether u r that heroic or hollow from inside. No matter how plain or simple your outfit is but at the end it is seen that how committed u r on your moral grounds . Your strength and your genuinity lies within u which is much more dearer than your expensive , cost worthy outfit u wear.

16. Why looks and appearance matter

Every person is born with unique features that may or may not be perfect, but we try to enhance our beauty by making our external presence more showy and captivating. Our body and traits, which we acquired during birth, need due care with time. Our body is a composition of sensitive organs, and replenishing it with food and nutrients needs all vitals required for the body making from within, but we also need some extra routine care and nourishment to guard our body and skin from the outer environment. Our inner beauty is a 4-day wonder and can't stay for long, and what we carry all our life is pounds of makeup and external pleasantries.

Wilted beauty with age

~ Beauty isn't perennial and can't remain intact for ages. We r a flesh and bone structure with some personality traits of brownie eyes, a chiseled face, or a pointed nose. And we love ourselves as we r. We glorify our short-lasting beauty with slaps of makeup and beauty accessories, but do nothing much to beautify our inner selves. We can doll up our external beauty but care less for things which r nature given. Our skin will get loose, eyes blurry, face plumpy, teeth falling, and hair into baldness. Because our soft skin is as sensitive and delicate as a flower that withers away with time if no proper manuring is given. Our body draws the same anomalies as plants. And requires lots of worked up for a healthy, glowing skin and slim, trim figure. Therefore, it is highly important to do proper conditioning of your body to make it look newer and fresh till eternity.

Revealing culture to spruce up

~ We all want glowing white skin, silky hair, smoky eyes, blushed cheeks, and things of all glim and glammer to look fashionable. And it has become a vogue culture today to have an astonishing figure, glam beauty, and a splitting charismatic personality. We all r perfect in our own skin but still need some beauty touch-up for a fancy look, a donning personality, and an angelic figure. Makeup industry has a huge flux of beauty and cosmetic products and a long list of potential buyers to consume it. Taking good care of our skin and health is an utmost priority for users because our health is the only wealth for a lighter, brighter skin tone. And this showy business of flexing your beauty and garnering praise will always be the 1st in polishing one's profile. The jewellery we wear, the make-up we put on, or the clothes we dress in r least for self-happiness but more for showing off and to gain compliments on our adoring looks. And to flaunt our make-up and glossy skin, we spent a big share of our money on a mere sham.

Why beauty essentials r needed

- By continual body and face massage, it relaxes our muscles, eases pain, rejuvenates our skin, and flushes all dead cells from the body.
- Face clean-up and different herbal facial helps in de-tanning our skin and to lower dark pigmentation due to sun and heat waves, helps treat tiny pores by washing off layers of dust blocking these pores.
- Using moisturizing creams and lotion makes our skin smooth, draws a thin film on our skin to reduce excess radiation and dust affecting our body.

- Piercing in ears and other areas of our face has direct contact with the brain. It is alleged that piercing sharpens our brain, and wearing metal rings gives cooling sensation to body.
- Wearing a bindi on our forehead also keeps our mind at peace. This is 1 of an accupressure point helps in lowering stress, cooling mental pain.
- Regular hydra/gel facial massage helps in lightening our skin tone, making skin gleaming with shine and softness.
- Hair spa promotes natural hair growth, treats damaged hair from the scalp, provides deep-rooted massage, giving strength to hair, improves texture and hair volume, gives ultra cleaning, and helps damaged hair follicles.
- Using creams of high SPF, sunscreen protects our skin from the sun and suspended dust particles in the air.
- We use concealer to hide dark spots and blemishes, contour for a sharp, pointed, chiseled structuring of nose bridge, jaw line, and forehead, foundation for giving red/ white color to skin, bronzer for a high sculpted looking face to make cheekbones, temple area more shadowy.
- Different shades of lipstick, Nair paint, blush, and mascara to make our face look more attractive and highlighted.

Do we spendthrift on looks

~ As world is moving towards modernization and tech, we too r shaping ourselves with the modernized world. Dressing elegantly, wearing swanky outfits, and designer accessories is becoming a part of our everyday life. And we do all the necessary spending for a glam look, filtered beauty. And for everyone, personality matters a lot. Now, when our look comes 1st spending even a million bucks is no spending.

Our body is sensitive to every external substance we induce in our body, and 1 can't risk their health by using cheap, low-quality products that can harm their body. Using sub-standard products costing u less can actually cost u a lot in the long term by infecting your body in the form of rashes, itching, or some acute skin disease, putting u in an in-disposable state. So, by spending a little extra on our make-up accessories, we're putting ourselves away from the risk of endangering self and by using branded items, we're prioritising our bodily needs for comfort and ease over money.

Conclusion

~ We should follow all those practices that please us, which could be a piece of jewelry, makeup, or a dress. And our happiness comes above all social or physical dimensions of home or money. And if we r lashing out our money on something which gives us some internal pleasure, we should do that all. If our happiness comes by squandering money on makeup or apparels than such spending is not more than shreds of happiness that we r getting out of it. A dashing personality comes with a cost, and that cost is the appealing beauty of makeup and designer clothes we adorn ourselves with. And every cosmetics that gives us a fair look and flawless beauty must be tried on.
